Target Date of August 1 Set For Opening To Traffic

A target date of Aug. 1 has been set for the opening of newly-improved Broadway to traffic.

Raymond G. Kilp, resident engineer for the Missouri State Highway Department, said Thursday that with a little luck and a lot of hard work Broadway improvements would be ready to handle the tremendous volume of traffic during the Missouri State Fair.

House Vetoes Ike's Plan To Reduce Army

Adds On Amendment To Keep 900,000 Man Army Next Year

WASHINGTON (AP)—By a roll call vote of 224-158, the House today rejected President Eisenhower's plan to cut the Army's strength to 870,000 men during the next 12 months. It then passed a $38,409,561,000 defense appropriation bill.

The roll call vote nailed into the measure an amendment to finance a 900,000-man Army during the year starting July 1 at an additional cost of 99 million dollars.

Passage of the bill was by voice vote which sent it on to the Senate.

Today's vote on the issue of the Army's size upheld a tentative decision made Wednesday without a roll call. This question was the only controversy in the bill.

The group favoring a big Army won an initial victory when an amendment carrying the 99 millions was approved tentatively by a 108-79 vote.

The added funds are intended to maintain Army strength at 900,000 men during the next 12 months instead of the 870,000 recommended by Eisenhower and the House Appropriations Committee.

'Dead' Man To Marry Nun With Pope's Blessing

FLORENCE, Italy (AP) — A man who returned from the dead has wed a nun who obtained the Pope's permission to marry.

Twenty years ago in the central Italian hill town of Falciano, Alba Guidotti, a pretty girl of 15, and Rinaldo Matesini, 16, became engaged.

A year later, in 1939, war came. Rinaldo was called to arms. Before he could wed Alba, he was sent off to Greece.

Word came in a few months that Rinaldo was dead. Alba, grief-stricken, entered a Roman Catholic convent and took the vows of a cloistered Benedictine nun.

Rinaldo, however, was not dead. Wounded, he was shuttled from hospital to hospital. In 1946 he returned home to learn Alba had entered a convent.

Eventually he arranged to meet her in the presence of the mother superior of the convent. Alba decided to ask to be released from her vows.

Last November, came the word that Pope Pius XII had granted her the release. It was a long time to wait, but the church considers such dispensation a matter requiring the fullest study.

A month ago Alba and Rinaldo were married in the Falciano parish church. Early this week their story became known to Italian newspapers, and today church authorities at Falciano confirmed that the wedding has the blessing of the Holy See.

Pilot Error Likely In Mexican Disaster

GUADALAJARA, Mexico (AP) —Pilot failure was singled out today as the most likely explanation of the Mexican airliner crash Monday night that killed 45 persons, including 14 Americans and two Canadians.

Gen. Alberto Salinas Carranza, director of Mexican Civil aviation, praised the veteran pilot, Alfonso Cecena. But Carranza said he found nothing to account for the disaster except possible human error.

The plane's log reports indicated all had been normal on the flight from Tijuana to Guadalajara, he said, and the plane was in excellent condition.

The Aeronaves de Mexico Constellation crashed against a 7,500-foot peak.

The American and Canadian victims all lived in California.

ALGERIA HAILS NEW PREMIER—Arms outstretched, Premier Charles de Gaulle acknowledges cheers of the crowds lining the streets of Algiers to watch him pass on the way from the airport to his meeting with French insurgent leaders. De Gaulle flew from Paris to confer with the group which seized control of the North African territory in a move that precipitated the World War II hero's rise to power. De Gaulle's Program Gets Mixed Reaction

New Premier Gets Another Big Welcome

But Moslem Rebels State Integration Is Not Acceptable

CONSTANTINE, Algeria—(AP) — Premier de Gaulle flew to eastern Algeria today for another enthusiastic welcome. Elsewhere, spokesmen for the nationalist Moslem rebels rejected his program to make them first-class Frenchmen.

Many Moslems were among the thousands who lined De Gaulle's route from the airport into Constantine, the mountainous, rebellion-backed eastern sector's chief city.

But in Cairo and Tunis, spokesmen for the Algerian National Liberation Front (FLN), spearhead of the revolt against French rule, said their organization will not accept De Gaulle's program to integrate Algeria's European and Moslem population, each with equal rights and equal votes for all.

The FLN spokesman in Cairo said the rebel organization's office there would issue a communique answering De Gaulle.

Constantine was the second stop on De Gaulle's three-day Algerian tour to establish his government's authority over insurgent French colonists and military leaders and to launch a new drive to end the 43-month-old nationalist rebellion.

The massed thousands in Constantine cheered as De Gaulle declared from a flag-decked balcony, "All men here have the same rights—the same duties."

The chief address was essentially the same as the one he delivered to a cheering throng of about 100,000 in Algiers Wednesday night.

De Gaulle spoke only in generalities that left Algerians in the dark on details of his plans for ending the 43-month rebellion. But there was no doubt the general captured and fired the imagination of Algerians residents more than anyone had done in a long time.

"I open the door to reconciliation," de Gaulle proclaimed in offering a program designed to win back rebels whom he praised as courageous. This was the program.

Within three months the nine million Arab and Berber Moslem Algerians and the 1½ million Algerians of French descent will join with 45 million residents of France in voting on the constitutional reforms he is pledged to draw up.

At some future date all Algerians will ballot on a single voting list for "representatives to the public administration."

"With these elected representatives we will see how to do what must be done," De Gaulle added, presumably meaning negotiations on Algeria's future relationship with France.

Silverman Meets With Civil Defense Group

Mayor Abe Silverman met with the Pettis County Civil Defense Advisory Board at the Sedalia Post Office Wednesday afternoon to discuss the possibility of organizing an auxiliary police and fire-fighting force for civil defense use.

This marked the first time the mayor had attended one of the frequent civil defense meetings. Peggie Hewitt Homan, civil defense director, said such a training course for auxiliary police was available under the federal defense set-up.

Present at the meeting were Mayor Silverman, Mrs. Homan, Advisor C. F. Scotten, Police Judge Tom Keating, Postmaster Maurice Hogan and Dr. A. J. Campbell.

McLaughlin Is Chairman Of Red Cross

He Will Succeed Maurice Hogan; New Board Has Meeting

Philip McLaughlin, of McLaughlin Brothers Furniture and Funeral Chapel, was elected as the new chairman of the Pettis County chapter of the American National Red Cross. The election was held at the first meeting of newly elected board members with board members whose terms had not yet expired at the chapter office, 112 West Fourth.

McLaughlin has a long record of service to Red Cross on the county level and to both state and national. He has previously served as chapter chairman and is currently fund chairman for a seven-county area which includes Pettis. He succeeds Maurice F. Hogan, Sedalia postmaster, whose term of board membership expired in 1958, and who has been chapter chairman for the past year.

In the other chapter offices the incumbents were re-elected. They are: Mrs. Harold F. Dean, Sedalia, vice-chairman, Mrs. W. H. Weller, Green Ridge, secretary, and N. U. Renshaw, Sedalia, treasurer. Mrs. Weller is also employed part time in the chapter office. Mrs. Eula Spencer is the Pettis County executive secretary. Her assistant is Mrs. Henry Menefee. All board members and chapter officers are volunteers, and serve to help provide the community with the ten important services of the National Red Cross.

During the business meeting of the board Mrs. Spencer reported on the current Red Cross swimming program, and a recent disaster preparedness meeting of the disaster committee of which J. E. Norlin is the chairman in co-chairmanship with P. A. Sillers. The disaster committee joint chairmanship has one vacancy to be filled, as it is normally composed of three volunteers. The vacancy exists because of the resignation of I. H. Reed who is leaving the city.

New board members are Dick Van Dyne, J. F. Downs, Joseph R. Allen, Karl Baumer, Rev. Kenneth Davidson, John C. Ryan, David Wallington, Mrs. Walter Haynes, Green Ridge, Oscar D. DeWolf, P. A. Sillers, W. E. Pace, LaMonte, Mary Elizabeth Tevbaugh, Houstonia, R. R. Jiedel, and Mrs. Raymond Nagel, Hughesville.

Wisconsin Tornado Kills 28

More Than 100 Hurt As Twister Looses Its Fury

MEMONIE, Wis. (AP) — A deadly tornado cracked like a bullwhip across northwestern Wisconsin Wednesday night, leaving a mounting toll of at least 28 dead and more than 100 injured.

The vicious twister unleashed its full fury on the small town of Colfax.

Houses were smashed, trees splintered and stone buildings pulverized as the cruel storm, carrying torrents of rain, skirted the edge of the Colfax business district.

Bodies of 11 persons were recovered from the debris there. Another 35 residents of the community of 1,000 were hurt.

Sweeping out of the northwest, the tornado spun across four counties before blowing itself out southeast of Eau Claire.

Wisconsin Gov. Vernon Thomson declared the four-county path the storm hit an emergency area and ordered out the National Guard.

A Weather Bureau meteorologist from Madison, Wis., Joseph Rigney, said the storm dropped three parallel tornado funnels as it swept from the Minnesota border toward the southeast.

Rural areas near Menomonee and Chippewa Falls were hard hit.

The funnel carried such force it not only blew houses and barns down, but strewn boards, plumbing fixtures and furniture indiscriminately.

A northside residential district in Colfax was all but wiped out. Some newly built homes were reduced to piles of debris atop their foundations. Others were just blown away.

Automobiles, twisted into grotesque shapes, were tossed like toys.

Communications and power was knocked out in Colfax, forcing rescuers to make farm-by-farm visits to check for casualties and damage.

After its destructive northside touch-down in Colfax, the twister skipped the business district to maul homes on the community's southside.

One relief worker said "just 10 minutes is all it took." The blowing rain that accompanied the blow came down the street like a wave, he said.

Gov. Vernon Thomson ordered three companies of National Guardsmen to duty in the storm area for rescue and rehabilitation work.

Striking just after the supper hour, the twister caught many families unaware as their houses were flattened about them.

Two Medical Center Escapees Captured

SPRINGFIELD (AP)—The capture of one of two escapees from the U.S. Medical Center here last month was announced today by R. O. Settle of the center's staff.

John Jacob McDaniel, 30, was arrested in Abilene, Tex., early today, Settle said, and will be returned.

He escaped May 18 with Eugene A. Middlestad, 24, after cutting through a metal fence. Middlestad is still at large.

Deadline Is June 12

Enrollment in Water Safety Program Has Been Extended

Enrollment for non-swimmers in the Pettis County Chapter Red Cross water safety program has been extended to Thursday, June 12. This decision was made Wednesday morning at the first meeting of the newly elected Red Cross board.

Mrs. Eula Spencer, executive secretary, reported to the board that a number of Pettis County youngsters had neglected to return their enrollment cards before the closing date this year, which was June 2. Enrollment now stands at 546. Last year the program was given to over 700 non-swimmers.

It was the expression of the board that the program was important to all those children who desired to learn to swim, and that so there would not be too many disappointed youngsters the enrollment should be reopened with an absolute deadline of June 12.

Each year enrollment cards are taken to the Pettis County schools for distribution to the children in the age groups admitted to the course. In most cases the schools do not return the cards as a unit. It is the responsibility of the child or his parents to see that he is enrolled before the deadline.

A non-swimmers program is held each year at both Liberty Park pool and Hubbard Park pool. Henry Sutton is Red Cross water safety chairman. He has served several years in this capacity, having organized the program. He has been responsible for starting hundreds of Pettis County children on the way to good swimming practices and years of fun in the water.

Sutton said "I am pleased that the Red Cross board has seen fit to re-open enrollment this year, so that more of our kids can take advantage of the training offered by Red Cross."

Enrollment cards may be had at the Red Cross office 112 West Fourth.

Publishers Face Charge Of Sedition

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Judge Louis E. Goodman has refused to dismiss a sedition indictment against Mr. and Mrs. John Powell and Julian Schuman of New York City.

The Powells, who live in San Francisco, formerly published a journal in Shanghai.

They sought a dismissal saying they cannot bring witnesses from Red China for their July 14 trial because the U. S. government refuses to negotiate a judicial assistance agreement with that country.

Judge Goodman ruled yesterday that the circumstances do not amount to a denial of due process of law because the government would have been required to deal with a country it does not recognize.

The Powells published the now defunct China Monthly Review. They and Schuman, former associate editor, were indicted April 25, 1956 on charges they committed sedition by publishing stories accusing American forces of using germ warfare in Korea and thus interfering with U. S. military operations.

Their attorneys, A. L. Wirin of Los Angeles and Doris Brin Walker of San Francisco, argued that the charges should be dismissed or proceedings postponed until a judicial agreement is negotiated.

The Red China government will not allow witnesses to leave the country to testify in the United States without such an agreement. Judge Goodman said the United States has no judicial assistance agreement with any foreign state and to negotiate one with the Peoples Republic of China "would not be a routine act."

Knob Noster Has Special Vote Monday

School Board Asks One-Year 75-Cent Tax for Addition

A special election in the Knob Noster district will be held Monday to determine whether the residents will approve a one-year special building tax of 75 cents per $100 assessed valuation to provide a good quality addition to Knob Noster High School.

The voting will be conducted at the elementary school in Knob Noster.

Bids for the high school addition were opened by the school board on May 21 and the lowest bid, even without all the alternates, was below the available funds, according to Superintendent James E. Jageman.

The board was faced with three alternatives, he said: First, to reject all bids and ask the architect to redesign the building on a smaller scale; second, to eliminate all built-in cabinets and equipment and reduce the quality of all materials from the foundation to the roof; or third, let the people decide at a special election whether to construct the building of the cheapest quality materials.

Jageman said the labor costs are high but cannot be reduced. If the building must be made of cheaper materials, the high labor costs will represent a still larger proportion of the total cost without increasing the value of the building, he said.

Jageman said the lowest bids were: General contractor, $149,121; heating and ventilation, $15,957; plumbing, $14,750; and electrical, $16,642; totalling $196,470.

The funds now available, without the special tax, amount to $192,258. Of this amount, the largest portion, $168,358, is a federal grant, another $22,000 is the local building fund and the remaining $1,400 is state money.

The superintendent said that the architects have made changes in design and structure to reduce the costs. The changes that were acceptable to the board of education totaled $4,422. The board also decided to add $1,573 for aluminum window sash, for a total net savings of $2,849. This left a total construction cost of $193,621.

To this figure, Jageman said, must be added the fees for architectural and engineering services, amounting to $11,617.26, another $7,000 for new furniture for the addition and $4,000 for a contingent fund. This would bring the final cost of the addition to $216,238.26.

If the Knob Noster residents approve the 75-cent special tax for one year, he said, it would provide the school system with an additional $24,000, bringing the funds available to pay for the work up to $216,258, or just $9.34 more than enough to pay for the addition.

The special tax will be the only proposition voted upon Monday.

Tenant Farmer Found Dead in Cultivator

SIKESTON (AP) — Charles W. Wise, 71, a tenant farmer, was found dead today, tangled in the knives of a cultivator in a soybean field.

His wife discovered the accident when she took Wise some water. Apparently the body had been dragged about 350 feet before the tractor drawn cultivator ran into a post and stopped.

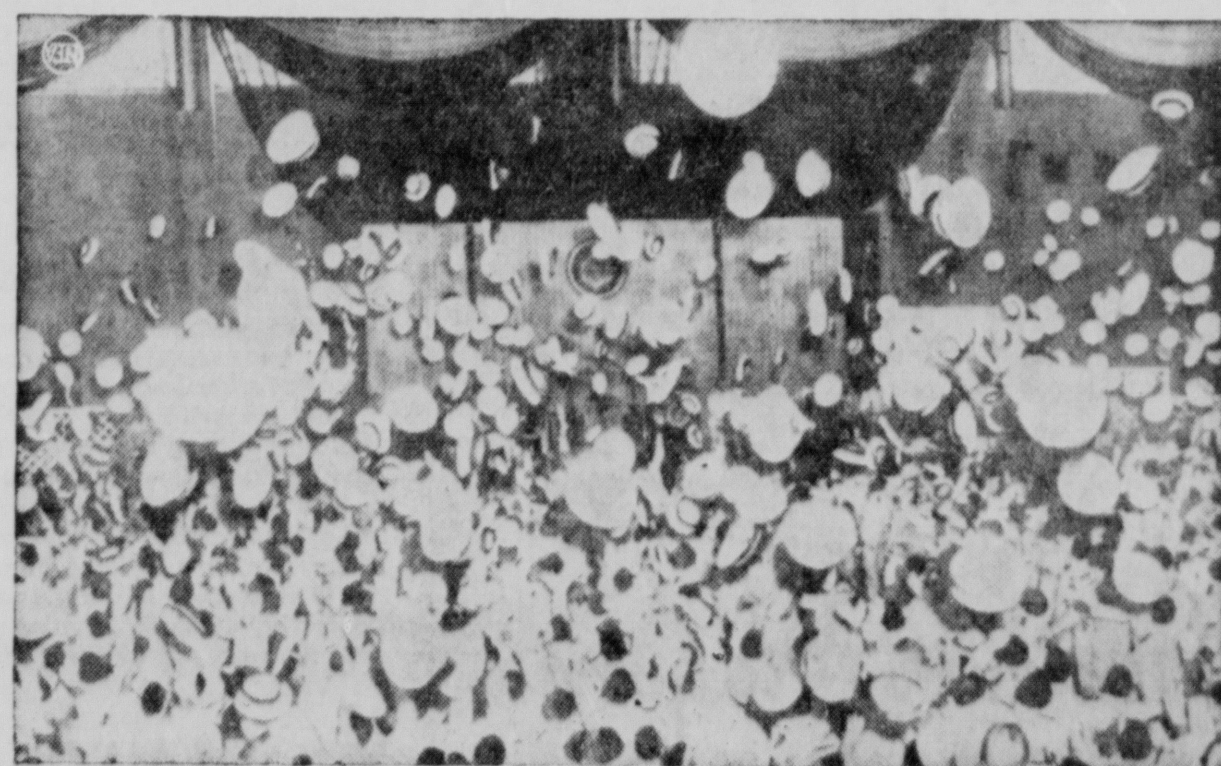

Wise was a native of Clarksburg, Ark., and came to Missouri in 1932. He had farmed property for Miss Mayme Marshall since that time.

Pardon Board Turns Down Plea Of Young Killer

POINT OF THE MOUNTAIN,
Utah (AP)—The young killer's hands twitched. His smile flickered nervously. He was asking for his life, and he lost.

Barton Kay Kirkham, who had sneered at the idea of mercy, asked for it Wednesday. The State
Pardons Board listened to his plea for life imprisonment and mental treatment and rejected it.

Saturday the 21-year-old slayer is to be hanged. He is the first condemned man in Utah in 46 years to choose hanging for his execution instead of the firing squad.

He said he did so because the noose would bring more publicity and would cause the state more trouble.

For two years since he fatally shot a man in a grocery store holdup and fled with $50, Kirkham had assured fellow prisoners and anybody else who would listen,
"I'm not afraid to die."

"I'm a loner," he told the board
Wednesday.

Over and over, the board members asked him why he had killed, what he thought of dying, whether he felt remorse. Kirkham said:
"No sir, no remorse or anything like that."

But then he launched into a disconnected, nervous plea for mercy. He said he'd rather die than spend his life in prison. But what he really wanted, he said, was confinement outside the prison for a life of psychiatric treatment.

The board said no.

Coast Guardsmen Stop Sailing Of Golden Rule

HONOLULU (AP) — Coast Guardsmen stopped pacifists from sailing the ketch Golden Rule toward the Atomic Energy Commission's test area again yesterday
— this time on the high seas.

Albert Smith Bigelow, Cos Cob, Conn., the Golden Rule's skipper, was arrested before the ketch sailed on a charge that he conspired to violate a federal court injunction against the sailing.

William Huntington, St. James,
Long Island, N.Y., returned to Honolulu, providing a navigator just in time to get the 30-foot vessel under way.

George Willoughby, Blackwood
Terrace, N.J., one of the crew, said the ketch was well outside the three-mile territorial limit when the Coast Guard caught up.
Huntington was arrested on the return to Honolulu.

Because of the doctrine of hot pursuit, it made no difference that the ketch was nabbed outside the limit of United States jurisdiction, said Asst. U.S. Atty.
Edgar D. Crumpacker. The doctrine holds that a criminal can be pursued across a border and that his capture in such cases is legal.

A previous attempt to sail was made May 1. That resulted in Judge Jon Wiig finding the crew guilty of violating his injunction against the trip. He gave them suspended sentences and put them on probation for a year that time.

Other crewmen are Orion Sherwood, Poughkeepsie, N.Y., and James Peck, New York City.

Machinists Tell Boeing to Start Contract Talks

SEATTLE (AP)—The Interna- tional Assn. of Machinists laid it on the line yesterday for 36,000 production and maintenance work- ers employed at the Boeing Air- plane Co. plant here.

Through one of its top officers the IAM told the Boeing em- ployees, in effect: "Quit the strike talk and get the contract talk go- ing again. You're wasting time."

The Boeing workers, represent- ed by the IAM's Aero Mechanics Union, had been scheduled to meet Sunday to vote whether to strike if they do not come to contract terms with Boeing by June 21, when the current agreement ex- pires.

Harold J. Gibson, general vice president of the IAM, whose au- thority extends over seven West- ern states and Alaska, ordered cancellation of the Sunday meet- ing and resumption of contract talks.

"The present contract with Boe- ing has until midnight of June 21 to expire," Gibson told the Seattle aero mechanics. "I am certain that realistic and responsible ne- gotiations between the union and the company between now and that date can result in an agree- ment that will be satisfactory to all parties."

"Too much union-management unrest already has plagued the Northwest. Our economy demands that any strike action against Boe- ing be the last resort."

Colorado is known as the "Moth- er of Rivers" because more rivers rise there than in any other state of the Union.

First Negro Graduates At Integrated School

GREENSBORO, N. C. (AP) — To an 18-year-old honor student graduating last night from Greensboro Senior High School, the words of City School Supt. Ben L. Smith had a special meaning.

He told the graduates to be ready to stand for what they thought was right, no matter what it cost them materially.

Then, with the others, Josephine Ophelia Boyd received her diplo- ma.

She thus became the first Negro to graduate from an integrated public high school in North Carolina.

There were no incidents. The girl was the target of eggs last fall in the first week of school. She said she was frightened the first day to be the only Negro among 1,900 students, but she added:

"I found that if you don't pay attention to people, they soon get tired of being silly."

Greensboro was one of three large North Carolina cities to ad-

Why Not Pick the Dandelion As National Flower of US?

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—If America is to wear a national flower in its buttonhole, why not make it the dandelion?

Congress is periodically peti- tioned to name an official U.S. flower, but so far has ducked a vote. This issue could cause a lot of statesmanlike heads to roll — like petals at the first frost.

Garden lovers are a passionate folk. Knock their favorite flower, and it's worse than kicking their dog around. The angry sap rises in them. The wise politician realizes that picking a national flower could easily lead to a floral war between the states.

Right now there are two lobbies besieging Congress — some ladies from Atlanta, ardent advocates of the rose; a Midwest contingent which thinks the corn tassel should be the tossing symbol of our land.

The rose lovers, of course, are strictly traditionalists and are the kind of people who pick the New York Yankees every year to win the American League pennant.

Against them is the opinion of many that the rose is a garden snob and not democratic enough to represent America.

The corn tassel crowd claims that the corn tassel is as Ameri- can as Pocahontas and, further- more, is the harbinger of two of mankind's greatest pleas- ures—bacon and bourbon. One criticism against it: It is almost as symbolic of a single region, the Middle West, as cotton was of the Old South.

The big problem Congress faces in selecting a national flower is how to avoid showing regional fa- voritism.

If it names the official flower of one state, it by implication of- fends the other states.

The only remaining possible choice is the dandelion, the golden democrat of lawn and pasture. It is the true all-American flower, a rugged individualist that stands above class or creed. Or local partisanship.

It exports its seeds in clouds of white paratroopers that enrich with new beauty the backyards of the poor and the estates of the mighty. It is the stubborn friend of all. You can't even force this pal to leave you.

In good times you can admire its loveliness. In bad times, or good times, you can make wine from its blossoms, salad from its leaves, all kinds of medicines and a substitute coffee from its roots. It is beloved of children. You can hold its yellow glory under your best girl's chin and tell if she likes butter.

The easy way out for Congress is to vote the dandelion as the U.S. national flower—by acclama- tion.

Jack Pohl of Warsaw, chairman of the council camping and activities committee for the Lake of the Ozarks Council, Boy Scouts of America, announced today that camp will open on Sunday, June 8. Pohl said there will be five periods of camp this year, with all periods having more than 100 boys registered which will give the council the largest number of campers in its history.

The camp staff, as announced by Pohl, will be: Camp director, John Dowler, Eldon; program director, Gen. Jerry Morie, Warrensburg; aquatics director, David Turner, Kirksville; aquatic staff, Laughton Smith, Jefferson City, George Schuenemeyer, Jefferson City, Calvin Garnett, Jefferson City, and Frances Self, Sedalia; commissary officer, Gary Noland, Warsaw; dish washers, Larry Henley and Paul Stoehr, Jefferson City; dining room steward, Bob Kennedy, Warsaw; assistant on the rifle range, Tom Wieman, Eldon; nature and Oesville; camp craft, Howard Hahn, Russellville, and Tim Alexander, Jefferson City; quartermaster, James Smith, Warsaw; store, James Haley, Slater; archery, Ferd Balkinhol, Jefferson City; and utility, Leon Twyman, Jefferson City.

Those troops going in camp for the first week were listed as follows: Troop 17 of Linn, 20 Scouts; Troop 54 of Sedalia, 21 Scouts; Troop 41 of Slater, 38 Scouts; Troop 44 of Sweet Springs, ten Scouts; Troop 21 of Lake Ozark, 13 Scouts; and Troop 95 of Tipton, 13 Scouts.

Pohl also announced that the camp would be inspected by Louis Eckell of Washington, Mo., and member of the regional committee of the Boy Scouts of America, and Lyle Leighton, Kansas City, deputy regional executive. This inspection will be made on Thursday, June 12.

Woman Wins Prize In Gabbing Contest

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C. (AP)—"Mother," said Mrs. J. C. McCauley's son, "here's a time for you to get something for all that jabbering you do."

So the 49-year-old grandmother gabbed 28 hours, 44 minutes in station WFLB's talkathon race for $1,500 in prizes and broke the 27 1/2-hour world record claimed by Mrs. Louis Grant, 27-year-old secretary who quit Tuesday afternoon.

"I can still talk, but I felt like it was time to quit," said Mrs. McCauley last night after yielding the microphone to red-haired Mrs. Arthur Catts, a housewife.

Said Mr. McCauley: "I always knew I had a champion."

Marcia Elliott

Attended Rainbow Girls Installation

Miss Marcia Elliott was installed as worthy advisor of Windsor Assembly No. 5, Order of Rainbow for Girls, at a public installation Sunday afternoon, May 25, in the high school auditorium.

Other officers installed were: Sheryl Marti, worthy associate advisor; Mary Perry, charity; Brenda Ketchum, hope; Donna Oechsli, faith; Dixie Chipman, chaplain; Judy Ellis, love; Arlene Phifer, religion; Dottie Jordan, nature; Linda Ferguson, immortality; Wanda Wolfe, fidelity; Bille Jo Morrell, patriotism; Roberta Powell, service; Jill Ferguson, outer observer; Glenda Vincent, musician; Jane Petley, choir director; Ruth Sappington, orator; Barbara Feaster, historian, and Sharon Buell, reporter.

The installing officers were: Mrs. Janice Rice, worthy advisor; Dottie Bowen, marshal; Mrs. Janice Walthall, recorder; Sara Sue Shipp, chaplain; Karen Henry, musician; and Mrs. Mary Lou Medlin, soloist. Marlene Buell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marion Buell, was crown bearer.

After her installation, Miss Elliott gave her dedication speech in front of the altar on which she had a symbol of her dedication, "Hands of Service." Her station was banked with violet flowers, the color of service. The background music was "My Task."

Miss Elliott introduced her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Elliott. She presented her mother with a dozen red roses which were gathered from the officers as Mary Lou Medlin sang "Love Sends a Little Gift of Roses" and she also presented her father a gift.

The worthy advisor assisted by Miss Buell presented her installing officers with gifts of appreciation.

Miss Dottie Bowen, junior past worthy advisor, was presented a Rainbow Bible from the Masons and a gift from the assembly.

In closing Mary Lou Medlin sang "The End of a Perfect Day."

Following the installation refreshments were served in the home economics room. The table decorations carried out the violet theme.

Sub Sinking Caused By Power Failure

HONOLULU (AP)—The executive officer of the submarine Stickleback says its own power failure on a dive was responsible for its being rammed and sunk by the destroyer escort Silverstein.

Lt. Robert W. Dickieson told a naval court of inquiry yesterday that after the power failure, the submarine's crew barely was able to halt its plunge by hand-operating its diving planes. When the vessel rose, it was rammed. That was last Thursday.

All 74 enlisted men and eight officers were rescued. The ships were on antisubmarine maneuvers.

Dickieson gave no theories on cause of the power failure.

Nasser to Support Independent Cyprus

CAIRO (AP)—President Nasser of the United Arab Republic last night expressed his support for independence of Cyprus from Britain.

Nasser spoke at a dinner honoring Archbishop Makarios, leader of the Greek Cypriot independence movement. The archbishop, an exile from the British island colony in the east Mediterranean, came here to confer with the U. A. R. chief of state.

"Freedom of Cyprus is for us confirmation for the principles in which we believe . . . and also is for us reaffirmation of peace."

'Ma Kelley' Ignores Regal Titles When Pinning Cottons on Tykes

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent
PHILADELPHIA — (NEA) — Changing the diaper on a lusty tyke with the regal title of Prince Albert Alexandre Louis Pierre is not a whit more soul-stirring to a grandmother than hooking the dry cottons to plain-handed Chris or Susan.

Mrs. John B. Kelly, mother of Princess Grace of Monaco, and thus grandmother of Grace's two royal offspring, is probably the only American woman who speaks authoritatively on this point.

When the male heir to the throne of Monaco was born March 14, he became the Kelly's ninth grandchild and the second male of the group. Beating the stork, as grandmothers will do, Mrs. Kelly was on hand to do whatever she could, which turned out to be plenty. She changed diapers, comforted, directed, advised and cajoled as the demand arose.

But she's back home from the experience now, convinced of at least one grandmotherly fact of life:

"I feel exactly about my grandchildren over there as I feel about the seven of them here. I love them all. I enjoy them. I never think that one's a prince and one's a princess. I'm just terribly grateful that they're all healthy children."

Grace's daughter, Caroline (pronounced by them all as Caroleen, rhyming with bean) is just beginning to talk and the first words Mrs. Kelly began teaching her were, "Ma Kelly." That's how all of the grandchildren address her and she wants to make sure that the Monaco contingent does the same.

Speaking of Caroline, Mrs. Kelly enthuses:

"She has beautiful eyes, a ready smile and a very pleasant personality. She loves flowers and spends a lot of time picking them and offering them to anyone close by to smell."

Speaking of the new Prince, she says, "he's just a great big healthy, lovely-looking baby."

And proving her contention about

Litterbug Campaign Of Knob Noster Girl Scouts Successful

The six Girl Scout troops in Knob Noster had a "Litterbug Hike Thursday" afternoon. Thirty-four Brownies and Intermediates weighed in 428 pounds of litter. The girls picked up litter between the sidewalks and the streets and in the alley.

The leaders and mothers who accompanied the girls were: Mrs. Kenneth Vick, Mrs. F. D. Welch, Mrs. Fred McAllister, Mrs. Morris Roy, Mrs. Richard Hornbeck, Mrs. Robert Gero, Mrs. Edmund P. Daly, Mrs. Robert Overbey, Mrs. E. O. Price, Mrs. Elmo Lay, and Mrs. T. A. Reeves.

Prizes of pocket song books were given to Nancy Lane and Roxanne Roy for the Brownies who had the largest collection of litter. Each weighed in 28 pounds. Kathy Smiley and Rita Norman tied for second place with 25 pounds each. The Intermediate with the most litter was Sally Ann Price with 26 pounds; the runner-up was Cheryl Hakes with 23 1/2 pounds.

Refreshments were served at the Presbyterian manse to the Scouts after the hike by the Knob Noster Progressive Club. The members who served were: Miss Lois Kendrick, Mrs. F. M. Crowder, Mrs. George Grove, Mrs. Eula Patton and Mrs. George Winkler.

Four of the troops had made litterbug posters and the best two from each troop had been presented to the Progressive Club, who gave awards for the best one in each troop. The awards were plastic aprons with a "Girl Scout in the kitchen" motif. The winners were: Maria McGann and Patricia Bennett of Troop 314, Roxanne Roy of Troop 315, Rowena McAllister of Troop 316 and Wanda Coats, Elsie Zink, Carol Reed and Patty Helms of Troop 317. The posters were judged by Mrs. O. A. Blaylock.

The winning posters are now on display in windows of downtown Knob Noster.

being an impartial grandmother she adds:

"Take Meg who's 12 and the daughter of my oldest girl, Mrs. George L. Davis Jr. Meg's an extrovert and an absolutely wonderful figure skater. Her sister, Mary Lee, is more retiring but has a terribly attractive personality. Then there's Ann, three, who is vivacious; Susan, two, who is husky and determined; and Mora, one, who is petite and sweet. They're Kelly's (John B. Kelly Jr.) children."

"Little Grace is two and daughter of my youngest daughter, Lizanne. She's quiet but going to have the personality and looks of her namesake. And Chrissy, one, has already started to walk and is going to be an athlete."

Mrs. Kelly obviously does more for the grandmother industry than increase its output of grandchildren. She decorates it considerably. She's blonde — not silver-slim, vivacious and there's no mistaking why her daughter Grace knocked the eyeballs out of Hollywood so fast and effectively.

But Ma Kelly's general ungrandmotherly appearance doesn't keep her from speaking positively about what she considers should be the by-laws of the sorority. On a grandmother's duties she says:

"Grandmothers should give help and advice when asked. I suppose, however, if you see something going very wrong a grandmother should speak up. But that has never happened to me."

On grandmotherly discipline she says:

"When I'm in my daughters' or son's houses they're the bosses of the grandchildren and I keep my mouth shut. But believe me, when they're under my roof, which they are frequently, I'm the boss. They go to bed when I tell them to and behave according to my rules. And when Grace's children visit me it will be exactly the same way. They all understand this and accept it."

On the modern grandmother, Mrs. Kelly says:

"Today's grandmother doesn't sit around and twiddle her thumbs, just being a static grandmother. She's out doing things and continuing to live her own life. That's what she should do."

In this regard, Mrs. Kelly faithfully follows her own dictum. She and her husband have an active social life. They see a lot of their children—she's soon going to visit Grace again. And she's extremely active in behalf of the Women's Medical College of Philadelphia, the only medical college in the U.S. exclusively for women.

Before her marriage to the dynamic John B. Kelly, the wealthy Philadelphia contractor, Mrs. Kelly was the first woman to teach physical education at the University of Pennsylvania. She also taught at the Women's Medical College.

Keeps Dog From Seeing Evil In World

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—King Boy, a German shepherd, has to face life today just like the rest of us.

Neighbors complained because the dog's owner Mrs. Nancy Ewing, 58, blindfolded the animal when she took him for walks. Officers told her, "No more blindfolds."

"I just didn't want King Boy to see all the evil there is in the world," Mrs. Ewing said. "I didn't want him to see bad people."

Matter of FACT

Greek gem cutters of about the 5th century B.C. discovered that they could get beautiful results by cutting through the layers of different colors in such stones as onyx, sardonyx, chalcedony and agate. They carved their designs in relief so that the figures stood out in one color from a background of a contrasting color. This was the beginning of the art of cameo cutting.

Plans Underground Non-Nuclear Test Shot

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—A non-nuclear underground blast will be detonated within the next few days at the Atomic Energy Commission test site near here.

One ton of conventional explosives will be set off in a chamber leading off a tunnel of last fall's deep underground atomic shot, the AEC said.

The test will be used to scale the effects of a contained underground high explosive blast against effects of a nuclear shot, the AEC said.

Talk on Fish Survey Given To Lions Club

A talk on fish inventories was given to the members of the Sedalia Lions Club, Wednesday noon, by Stanton Hudson, Jr., formerly connected with the Missouri Conservation Commission.

Hudson, who is now associated with his father on the Sedalia Times, told of the beginning of fishing inventories, and the difference between rivers and streams. Missouri, according to Hudson, is one of the first states to make such a survey on a large scale of the rivers and streams.

The first stream survey was started back in 1940-42. Missouri, according to Hudson, has the largest number of various species of fish in any state in the country. He described the various types of fish to be found in the various sections of the state.

Missouri and Illinois cooperated in a survey of the Mississippi River, which was and is a big help to commercial fishermen, he said. Missouri Conservation Commission representatives, along with the University of Missouri, made an extensive survey of the Missouri River.

The largest such inventory was also first conducted by the Missouri Conservation Commission in getting the census of fish in Missouri waters. He explained the streams had three sampling stations, one at the mouth of the streams, another about midway down the streams and the third at the lower parts of the streams. These samplings continued through the spring, summer and fall of the year. This project was started in 1946-47 to locate the stations.

He explained the equipment used by the crews making the surveys, and told the group the crews were of times furnished with equipment upon recommendation of the office but the various additional needs and which equipment furnished them was obsolete was soon learned by those in the field.

The speaker was introduced by program chairman Bob Cain.

Paul R. Neitzert, Green Ridge, spoke on June being Dairy Month. In his talk he explained the dairy income for Pettis County for 1954 was $1,250,000.

Neitzert called attention to the Dairy Festival to be held this Saturday night at Liberty Park, starting at 6:30 p.m. until 9:30 p.m.

A milking contest is to be held in conjunction with the festival, and cow judging. An ice cream social will also be held.

Guests were Connie Mack III, public relations representative of the Kansas City Athletics, guest of Jimmy Glenn; Bill Farbis, assistant manager of Montgomery Ward Co., guest of Eli Whitney; and William D. Keim, traveling manager of the Boss Hotels, member of the Weyauwega-Fremont, Wis., Lions Club.

A. B. Warren, president, presided.

Columbia Manager Appointed Business Manager at University

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — Leo Hill, 35, city manager of Columbia, Mo., was appointed business manager of the University of Colorado today by President Guido Newton.

Hill will succeed Dillard W. W. Bray Aug. 1. Bray recently was appointed controller and treasurer of the university.

Society Couple Divorced Quietly

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A young society couple Wednesday was divorced quietly, in marked contrast to the furor that surrounded their wedding less than a year ago.

Mary Werner, daughter of a wealthy local manufacturer, and Lee Cummings Jr., both 22, were married in the shadow of lawsuits filed by their respective parents in a dispute over religion. Cummings is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Cummings Sr. of Wyncote, Pa., a swank Philadelphia suburb.

The senior Cummings sought to prevent the marriage on the grounds that the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Werner, conspired to induce young Cummings to give up his Roman Catholic faith.

The couple was married in a Lutheran church last June 29. Circuit Judge William Grambling granted Mrs. Cummings the divorce on her charge of cruelty. Religious issues were not a part of her complaint.

Mrs. Cummings' maiden name was restored, and in lieu of alimony, she was granted wedding gifts and household furnishings.

Windsor Soldier Takes Army Infantry Tests

Army Pvt. Guy T. Rolstin, whose wife, Louise, lives at Windsor, recently participated in platoon proficiency tests conducted by the 8th Infantry Division near Baumholder, Germany.

Rolstin, a communications wireman in Mortar Battery of the division's 28th Infantry, entered the Army last July and completed basic training at Fort Riley, Kan.

The 23-year-old soldier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy-Rolstin, Clinton, is a 1952 graduate of Calhoun High School.

OBITUARIES

Charles S. Arnold

Charles S. Arnold, 61, well-known Pettis County farmer, Route 1, LaMonte, died at Bothwell Hospital at 9:15 a.m. Thursday a few minutes after he was admitted. He had been ill since last January. He was a patient at Barnes Hospital from May 11 until May 28.

Mr. Arnold was born near Lincoln, Mo., Dec. 10, 1896, son of William H. and Lucy May Stratton Arnold. His early life was spent in Benton County and he received his education in the Benton County schools, graduating from the Lincoln High School.

Mr. Arnold was a veteran of World War I.

He was married at Windsor April 20, 1919, to Miss Elizabeth Kennedy. They lived most of their married life on their farm seven miles north of Dresden.

Mr. Arnold was a member of the Methodist Church and Post 520, the American Legion at LaMonte.

He was active in farm organizations within the county, having served as president of the Home Economics Council and as president of Pettis County Farm Bureau.

Mr. Arnold had been a member of the Special Road District Board for a number of years. In 1956 he was a candidate for county judge of the western district.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Arnold; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Arnold, 1401 1/2 East Fourth; one brother, William S. Arnold, 1401 1/2 East Fourth; one sister, Mrs. Marie Tilden, San Francisco, Calif., several nieces and nephews.

The body was taken to the Ewing Funeral Home. Funeral arrangements have not been completed.

Mrs. Nora Couey Clark

Mrs. Nora Couey Clark, 87, a sister of Judge E. W. Couey, 1020 West Fourth, died at her home in Riverside, Calif., Wednesday, according to a telephone message received that evening.

Mrs. Clark was a member of an early day and widely known Pettis County family and spent her early years and a portion of her adult life in the Dresden and Sedalia communities.

After receiving her education, she taught school for a time, having been a teacher in a rural school west of Sedalia on the Main Street Road. Later she taught at Trinidad, Colo., going to California 20, or more, years ago.

Surviving are two sons, Byard and Norton Clark, both residing in California; two brothers, Judge Couey, Sedalia, and Russell Couey of Malden, as well as a sister, Mrs. Sallie Satterwhite, Spokane, Washington.

Funeral services and burial will be at Riverside Friday.

James Simpson Thomas

James Simpson Thomas, 76, died early Tuesday morning at the home of Mrs. James Tolliver, Warsaw, where he had been residing for the past ten days.

Mr. Thomas was born Nov. 25, 1881, in Benton County and spent his entire life in the Warsaw Community.

He is survived by: Two sons, Robert William Thomas, Bremerton, Wash., and James Norris Thomas, Spokane, Wash.; and two nephews, Herbert L. Thomas and Robert L. Thomas, both of Irving, Texas.

Funeral services will be conducted at 2 p.m. Friday at the Reser Funeral Home, Warsaw, by the Rev. Steven Gardner.

Burial will be in Mount Pleasant Cemetery, Warsaw. The body is at the Reser Funeral Home.

Ralph E. Davis Services

Funeral services for Ralph E. Davis, 42, Wilson's Trailer Court, who died at Bothwell Hospital Tuesday morning, were held at the Ewing Funeral Home at 10:30 a.m. Thursday.

Elder Roy Weldon, Warrensburg, of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, officiated.

Mrs. Charles Griggs sang "Home, Beautiful Home" and "Beyond the Sunset" accompanied by Mrs. Clyde Waters at the organ.

Pallbearers were Irvin Slocum, Marion Lohmeier, T. B. Wright, Morion Brightwell, Charles Griggs and Nelson Pugh.

Burial was in the Mount Grove Cemetery at Independence, Mo.

Walker H. Finley Rites

Funeral services will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at the Gillespie Funeral Home for Walker H. Finley, 1909 South Missouri, who died at Bothwell Hospital at 2:40 a.m. Wednesday. The Rev. Richard Spellman, assistant pastor of the First Christian Church, will officiate.

Russell-Maag will sing "The Lord's Prayer" with Mrs. H. O. Forsaker at the organ.

Burial will be in Crown Hill Cemetery, the body to remain at the Gillespie Funeral Home until after services.

The weather bureau predicts slightly cooler temperatures in the north and west central portions of the state with a low tonight near 55 degrees.

Two Women Charged With Child Abuse

WAYNESVILLE, Mo. (AP)—The stepmother and grandmother of a 3-year-old child have been charged with felonious assault as the result of an investigation by Pulaski County authorities.

Mrs. Earnestine Luebken, 38, the stepmother, and Mrs. Maude Watts, are free under bonds of $1,500 and $1,000, respectively.

Prosecuting Atty. Arthur Cohn filed the charges yesterday and termed the child abuse case the worst he had ever seen.

The girl, Debra Luebken, is in General Hospital here in a serious condition.

Sheriff Dorsey Rayl said a doctor told him Debra may have been permanently injured by mistreatment.

Debra was taken to the hospital Friday after Sheriff Ray and Deputy Bill Stewart found her in a backyard swing at the Luebken home. "She was in a sort of a stupor," Stewart said.

The little girl was covered with severe bruises and her face was badly cut, Stewart reported. He said neighbors of Mrs. Luebken had told of seeing Debra lashed with a heavy strap.

Sheriff Rayl first went to the Luebken home two months ago after receiving complaints that a child had been badly beaten. He asked to see the child and was introduced to a 5-year-old boy identified as a grandson of Mrs. Luebken. He was in "fine shape," Stewart said.

After other reports to Rayl on Friday, the sheriff and Stewart went to the Luebken home and asked to see all the children.

M. Sgt. Virgil Luebken, stationed at Ft. Leonard Wood, who was home for the Memorial Day holiday, took them to the backyard where they found the girl. She was taken immediately to the hospital.

Hughesville Seniors Leave On Trip After Receiving Diplomas

The Hughesville baccalaureate commencement was held on Friday evening, May 23, with 14 seniors receiving their diplomas.

The program consisted of the processional, invocation by the Rev. G. M. Hulme, song of the mixed chorus, introduction of the speaker by Paul J. Vannatta, address by the Rev. D. Warren Neal, dedication by Bill Bruening, award announcements by Paul Vannatta, presentation of diplomas by Robert McCurdy, song by the girls glee club, benediction by the Rev. G. M. Hulme, song by the mixed chorus and the recessional.

Their class flower is the red rose, class color, blue and white, and class motto, "Our Aim Success, Our Hope to Win."

Several students were given scholarship and various awards. They are: Dean Raines, valedictorian, scholarship; Sandra Horn, salutatorian, scholarship; Arlene Tegtmeyer, scholarship; Dean Raines, scholarship; Billy Bruening, American Legion award, and Cathy DeBord, American Legion award.

Thirteen of the seniors left on their senior trip through the southern states. They were accompanied by Paul J. Vannatta and Miss Goldilee Kissinger.

Looking for Driver Who Saved Son's Life

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo. (AP)—Farmer John Howell is looking for two men who ride in a red pickup truck with a canvas top.

He wants to thank them for saving his son's life yesterday. Bobby Howell, 6, fell into the Little River diversion channel while fishing with his mother and brother, Jimmy, 4.

The two men, fishing nearby from a bridge, came to the rescue. One man jumped into the river and floated Bobby back to shore as he was going down for the second time.

The men applied artificial respiration and in a matter of minutes Bobby was up and around. Mrs. Howell, hysterical, forgot to ask their names and the men drove off.

Army to Overhaul Paratroop Safety

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army will overhaul parachute jump safety precautions and the equipment in the light of study of the April 23 airborne drop at Ft. Campbell, Ky., which killed 5 troopers and injured 112 others.

In a statement today the Army officially blamed freakish gusts of wind for the deaths and injuries to the troopers of the 101st Airborne Division.

Army investigators said normal safety precautions were enforced before and during the airdrop but that there were unusual wind conditions which were "unexpected and could not be sensed in advance."

By present safety rules, parachute training jumps are forbidden when ground wind velocity exceeds 13 knots. The investigators said that wind readings were 8 knots with gusts up to 12 knots at the time the troopers were jumping, but that just six minutes earlier the wind velocity was only 6 knots with gusts up to 10 knots.

POINTED WARNING — Rebel sentry walks in maze of bamboo stakes at Bukitittingi, Sumatra. Stakes are set to deter paratroop landing by government forces in civil conflict.

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A $6,110,601.55 contract for completion of the Pomme de Terre Dam near Hermitage, was awarded to Mary-Badget, Cape Girardeau, today by Army Engineers.

Col. L. E. Laurion, district engineer, said the joint venture bid was the best of four submitted.

Work on the project is expected to begin in about two weeks and between 250 and 275 persons will be employed, Laurion said. The contractors are to complete work in May, 1961.

Locomotive Fireman Honored for Alertness

MONNETT, Mo. (AP)—Locomotive fireman K. E. Barnett will be honored Sunday for averting a rail disaster March 28.

His 35-car Frisco coal train, the engineer dead at the controls, was roaring down a three-mile grade into an "S" curve near Fort Smith, Ark. A passenger train was approaching from the opposite direction on the same track.

Barnett responded quickly. He took control of the coal train and slowed it enough to avoid derailment.

Barnett, 41, father of five, was named winner of the May safety award of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen for his "skill, devotion to duty and cool headed alertness."

Russ Maag Tells Optimists

Sedalia Still Lags in Wide Program of Satellite Study

Visual stations in the moon watching program have been set up in Denver, Colo., Manhattan, and Pittsburgh, Kan.; Enid, Oklahoma City and Tulsa, Okla.; Joplin, Kansas City, St. Louis and Hannibal, Mo., and Peoria, Ill., but Sedalia doesn't have one, Russell Maag told members of the Optimist Club at the meeting of that organization Tuesday noon at Bothwell Hotel.

Maag went on to explain that the reason that Sedalia doesn't have one is because the telescopes cost $50 apiece, and there must be 12 of them, which amounts to $600.

Russell Maag, president of the National Astronomical League, a federation of organized astronomical societies in the United States, is also an adult sponsor of the Junior Astronomical Club at Smith-Cotton High School. He pointed out that the visual stations are interesting the young people of the communities in which they have been established to a great extent, and he feels it is a fine thing for the youth.

Maag talked on the subject "The International Geophysical Year." We are living in a new age, he said. The International Geophysical Year is an 18-month period which began July, 1957.

The years of 1957 and 1958 were chosen due to the solar aspects. The sun, he went on to say, is important to us, next to the earth. During this period there have been sun spots, which are great clouds of gas forming on the visible surface of the sun. These are similar to tornadoes on the earth only the activity is greater. Lots of things happen in the area of sun spots.

The speaker told of the cooperative program of nations to see what relation the sun is to the earth and what effect it has on the earth. The program also consists of measuring heights of mountains, earthquakes, ice floats, the project at the North Pole. Things are being found out now and will continue to be until the program is over that will be of great benefit to science in many fields. If such a cooperative program can be conducted for a period, it would continue, but it will cost money and we'll have to pay for it, Maag said. The President recently sent a message to Congress to consider continuation of the program.

We are now living in a space age, Maag continued, and are recording facts from a military standpoint and from a religious standpoint. It is vital, he said, that emphasis be placed on the standpoint of religion.

Maag told of the moonwatch program, and the visual station where people have actively been observing satellites and the value of these observations in the international program. He stated that the Kansas City Club, with which he is more familiar than other clubs, has lots of young people in it who are learning about astronomy. If it would be possible to raise enough money for a station here, Maag said, the high school astronomy club members here are far enough advanced to man it themselves at times when he could not be there.

Another type of program which Maag believes to be a reality is a photocraft station to photograph satellites. The requirements for this program would be less, and plans are to try it here.

The speaker was introduced by Dr. H. O. Wilbur, program chairman.

The meeting was presided over by Claude Boul, president, with invocation by the Rev. James Schrader. Charles Hanna led the singing, with Miss Lillian Fox at the piano.

The president introduced Paul Read, who told of June being Dairy Month. The dairy industry in this area, he said, is a big operation, with milk and cream produced here amounting to $1,250,000, most of which is spent in Sedalia. The big event of Dairy Month, he said, will be Saturday night at Liberty Park when ice cream and cake will be served for 10 cents for a large helping.

Starting at 6:30 there will be an accordion concert, 7 to 8, cow judging and 8 to 9, a milking contest between candidates.

There will be no noon meeting of Optimist Club next week but instead, members of the club will be guests at a picnic planned by the Opti-Club for the families at Liberty Park.

Farm Bureau Leader Says Action Needed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The president of the American Farm Bureau Federation says Congress has been fiddling on farm legislation at a time when action is needed to help agriculture find bigger markets and larger incomes.

The legislators, he said, are playing around with all kinds of "vote buying and socialistic money-spending schemes."

Charles B. Shuman leveled these charges against Congress in the June issue of the federation's magazine, the Nation's Agriculture.

The federation advocates revisions in federal farm programs that would reduce government's role in the pricing and control of farm production. It favors lower price supports as an incentive for broadened markets.

Shuman said an omnibus farm bill being drafted in Congress is a "Zopolitical concoction" of good and bad measures designed to assure a presidential veto and thus to create a campaign issue. He said both Democratic and Republican members of Congress are guilty of "this dangerous maneuvering to make political capital out of the problems of agriculture."

"It is doubtful if many people are being fooled by the present shenanigans in Washington," he added.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three government crop experts have returned from a tour of Africa with a report that the continent is expected to step up production of cotton moderately over the next five years.

They predicted that much of the anticipated increase will move into export markets to compete against American cotton.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cotton industry estimates that the destructive boll weevil and other insects add an annual average of 4 cents a pound to the cost of producing cotton.

In making the estimate, the National Cotton Council says there is need for greater government research on ways of eliminating crop insects.

Armed Posse of 700 Seeks Mystery Animal

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — An armed posse of some 300 to 700 men roamed the countryside northeast of the city today looking for a mystery animal described by farmers as a huge mountain lion.

Tracks have been found two to six inches wide and officers say the animal has killed 18 calves, 24 pigs and an undisclosed number of sheep and dogs during the past three years.

The volunteer hunters responded to an appeal from Sheriff Bob Turner who said the animal should be captured or killed. A $100 reward was offered.

About Town

Mrs. M. E. Green, superintendent at Buena Vista, has returned home from St. Louis where she was called by the death of her brother-in-law, Charles A. Finn, who was branch counselor for the Transit Casualty Co. of St. Louis. His wife was formerly Naomi Woodson of this city, a sister of Mrs. Green.

Mr. Finn died Thursday, May 29th, and funeral services were held Monday at the St. Joseph's Church in Clayton.

Attending the funeral, also, was another sister of Mrs. Finn, Mrs. E. R. Garrison, and Mr. Garrison, of Grandview, whom Mrs. Green accompanied back to Sedalia.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Williams, Minneapolis, Minn., former Sedaliaans, are visiting with Mr. Williams sisters, Miss Mae and Miss Helen Williams, 1416 South Ohio Street, after spending a few days with a brother in Kansas City. Mr. Williams, a supervisor for the Minneapolis Gas Co., left Sedalia 22 years ago and is pleasantly surprised at the many changes made as Sedalia has progressed.

Hold May Meeting At Templeton Home

A report on Rural Life Sunday was given by the appointed committee at the May 13 meeting of Pleasant Green 4-H Club which met at the home of Betty and Betty Templeton. Thirty-five persons attended the meeting.

The public auction from which the proceeds will be used to send an IFYE delegate to a foreign country was discussed.

The next meeting will be at the home of Jimmy Tyler on June 9.

Woman Wins Decision In Trial for Carrying Radar Warning Sign

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—You can carry signs in Dayton warning motorists of a radar speed zone ahead and it won't be considered interfering with the duties of officers, Dayton officials have decided.

The decision was a victory for a 22-year-old Dayton mother of two who thinks radar traps are sneaky. She was arrested May 22 for carrying such a sign.

But when the woman, Mrs. Marjorie Steinway, appeared in Municipal Court Wednesday to face the interference charges she was met by the city prosecutor, William P. Keane, who handed her a formal release and a $1 bill.

The release read in part: "I, Marjorie Steinway, for $1 and other valuable considerations, do hereby release and fully discharge all members of the Dayton police department from all action and claims growing out of my arrest."

Police said the woman had been found ahead of their radar zone carrying a sign saying "Speed trap ahead." They cited her for interfering.

Capt. C. W. Martz, head of the traffic section, said, however, he felt Mrs. Steinway was actually aiding police. All police want to do is slow down speeders, not arrest them, he asserted.

Houstonia Seniors Receive Diplomas

Baccalaureate services for the Houstonia seniors were held on May 4 with the Rev. James Eads as guest speaker. The invocation and benediction were given by the Rev. W. L. Green. During the services several songs were sung by the high school chorus.

The commencement exercises were held on Thursday, May 15. The program consisted of the following: Processional, invocation by the Rev. Green, a solo, introduction of speaker by Supt. Wilson, address by Dr. Clark Morton of Warrensburg, a duet, presentation of awards, class and diplomas, benediction by the Rev. Eads and the recessional.

Kathryn Elaine Lowrey, valedictorian, was presented the Legion Award and a scholarship to CMSC at Warrensburg and Anna Rose Smith, salutatorian, received a scholarship to the Baptist College at Bolivar. Everett Lee Blackburn, class president, received the Legion Award. Other class officers were Carolyn Bratton, secretary and treasurer; Alice Marie Tuckwiller, vice president, and Lillie Virginia Reid, reporter. Woodford Wilson was class sponsor.

As their class flower they chose the red rose and their class colors are red and white.

No Eighth Graders At One-Room School

PLANIGAN, Nev. (AP) — It's graduation week in Nevada and Planigan Grade School doesn't have an eighth-grader to graduate.

But there's a happy ending. Two Washoe County (Nev.) school officials traveled some 65 sagebrush miles to the one-room school. They will surprise 15-year-old Alfonso Cintora Jr. with the announcement today that he has done so well he can skip the eighth grade and go directly into high school.

So there'll be a graduation, after all.

ASIATIC ARCHERY—Holding an exotically curved native bow, 1st Lt. Norman M. Simmons of the U.S. Army prepares to shoot in an archery meet at Seoul, Korea. From Corona del Mar, Calif., Simmons was the only foreign entry among the 500 competing toxophilites (archery fans, to you) in the three-day First National Archery Championship.

English Bosoms Regarded As Class Conscious

LONDON (AP)—"In America, a bosom is quite simply regarded as a good thing. English bosoms are class-conscious."

That's the verdict of 30-year-old Mary Tuck, Oxford graduate and sometime English teacher at the University of Pittsburgh. Her views are advanced in a new book, "The Intelligent Women's Guide to Good Taste."

Miss Tuck's theory of class-conscious cleavage is based on bras, background and upbringing and gives the biggest boost to the lower-class bust. Put another way, she says the upper-class bust needs a big boost.

Look around a fashionable hunt ball, she says, and you will find the upper class are super droopers.

"The reasons for this are an interesting subject for speculation," she continues. "I think the most probable is that starch feeding at fashionable girls' schools produces unusually hefty figures in the adolescent (upper class) female."

The heavy strain put on pec toral muscles at a comparatively early age causes the sag, she said, and "no one bothers to see she is properly corseted."

So when this girl reaches the age of debutante parties and hunt balls, her figure is permanently damaged.

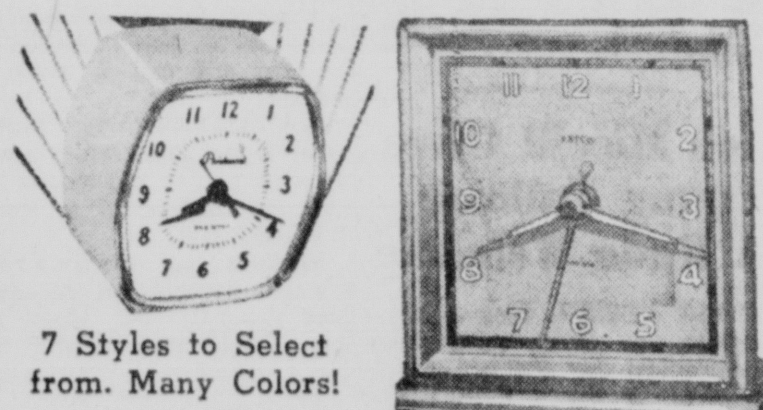

But: "Her (working class) sisters, who have been buying themselves properly fitting brassieres out of their wages since the age of 15, have far less to contend with."

UN Tackles Second Case

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The U.N. Security Council turned today to its second Middle Eastern case in two days — Lebanon's complaint that the United Arab Republic sparked and supplied the continuing revolt against the Lebanese government.

The rebels have been confined to several sections of the country, but sporadic fighting continues. An undetermined number of persons were killed during a six-hour clash in Beirut yesterday.

The Council yesterday called a two-week suspension in its debate on charges by Tunisia and France blaming each other for recent clashes between their troops in Tunisia.

French delegate Guillaume Georges-Picot called attention to the exchange of messages between new French Premier de Gaulle and Tunisian President Habib Bourguiba, each expressing hope for a peaceful settlement. Georges-Picot suggested direct talks between the two governments would be the best thing and said France was eager for them, something the French had previously balked at.

The Tunisian representatives also were in favor of direct talks but made clear they would continue to demand the withdrawal of the 22,000 French troops in Tunisia.

Only four of the 21 coastal states require state licenses for salt water fishing.

First Sedalia Win

Sorrels Breaks Jinx At Thunderbowl Oval

Walter Sorrels, the pride of Columbia, broke the Sedalia jinx Wednesday night by winning the 25-lap feature event at Thunderbowl Speedway. The "Flying Junkman" in D-7 had wound-up in second money in the previous two races at the Thunderbowl, but he wasn't to be denied on his third attempt. It was his first victory ever on a Sedalia oval.

Ken Taylor of Slater roared into early command in the feature, but on the tenth lap Sorrels slipped into the lead for keeps. Taylor, last week's victor, again drove a beautiful race and made repeated efforts to overhaul the husky Columbian and, although he almost managed to regain the lead in the tremendous dual, he never quite succeeded. Sorrels paid acceleration out of the curves paid off Wednesday night.

Sedalia's Donnie Cooper made the winner's circle in the first heat race of eight laps in the Cole-Cooper Special. Cooper nosed out Paul Keeffe of California and Dean Marr of Jefferson City for the triumph.

Roy Hibbard of Marshall topped Sorrels, Russ Hibbard and Ken Taylor in the second heat race—one of the most interesting events of the evening. Hibbard's winning time was a blistering 2:36.71 for the eight lap journey.

More Trials May Await O'Malley

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Walter O'Malley is still' erect after the latest effort to yank the Southern California welcome mat from under his Dodgers. But his equilibrium may be submitted to still further tests.

City voters decided in a referendum election Tuesday to let O'Malley build a luxurious new stadium for his ball club in Chavez Ravine, a mile from the heart of downtown.

Latest returns today show 176,605 votes for and 159,028 against. This is with 2,350 precincts of 4,519 reported. The trend is not expected to change.

The results mean O'Malley may get his athletes out of their makeshift playground at Memorial Coliseum sometime during the 1959 season—if.

If the chubby baseball impresario from Brooklyn can vault a few more hurdles.

There are several lawsuits on file now. They all challenge the legality of the deal permitting the Dodgers to set up shop in Chavez Ravine.

One of the suits was filed in nearby Pasadena on behalf of taxpayer Louis Kirschbaum. He already has obtained a temporary court order restraining the city from transferring its Chavez Ravine acreage to the ball club. Superior Judge Kenneth C. Newell now must grant or refuse an application for a temporary injunction.

Kirschbaum claims the land cannot be conveyed to the Dodgers because there was a deed restriction on it when it was acquired from the City Housing Authority. The restriction provided that the land be used only for public purposes.

City Atty. Roger Arnebaugh was asked to comment on the gravity of the situation.

"It is our considered judgment," he said, "that the contract is legal in all its aspects. But these lawsuits may well cause some delay in the ultimate completion of the project."

"The contract (with the Dodgers) says that in the event we are unable to get the restriction removed or modified he contract will be of no further force or effect. We recognized that the deed restriction would have to be modified. Steps will now be taken to get working it out with the Housing Authority. They have already indicated they are sympathetic to the proposal that the Dodgers play there, in that it is a quasipublic purpose in itself—for the benefit of all the public."

Braves Seem Sure Of Repeating Pennant Win

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — No wonder the Milwaukee Braves reconvicted they'll repeat as baseball's world champions. Even their ace left-handed pitcher can win an important game with his bat.

"The only reason I had the chance was that they were at the bottom of the barrel," 37-year-old Warren Spahn declared with a grin after his pinch hit single in the 11th beat San Francisco's Giants 10-9 Wednesday. He had pinch hit just once before this season, grounding out. This time he scored Bill Bruton with the clincher.

A crowd of 20,996, largest here for a week day since the 23,448 opener, saw the Braves boost their National League lead over the Giants to a full game.

The see-saw 11-inning game included six home runs and 23 other blows.

a dandy battle in the Trophy Dash with Taylor grabbing the checkered flag by an eye-lash.

The absence of Torch Aleshire was particularly noted by the 1,400 spectators on hand for Wednesday night's card. Aleshire, one of the ace drivers of the Central Missouri Racing Association, was out of action for motor repairs. He'll be on hand for the races at Thunderbowl Speedway next Wednesday night. A frequent winner, Aleshire became irritated at his inability to cash in at races in Jefferson City, Marshall and Moberly during the past week and decided to act. With an overhauled engine, the Moberly meteorite intends to get back in orbit.

Officials of the CMRA were openly disappointed that the entry turnout for Wednesday night's races didn't exceed previous records. It was pointed out that most of the drivers participated in the Memorial Day card at Marshall, in addition to four other regularly scheduled races last week and that those who didn't appear at the Thunderbowl just couldn't complete required maintenance by race time.

From the standpoint of Sedalia fans, Don Cooper provided a bright spot on the program—and gave indications that he'll be tougher to cope with in the future. Cooper placed a strong sixth in the feature in addition to winning the first heat race. Cooper is a three season veteran in the CMRA.

The results:
Feature Race: 1. Sorrels, Columbia; 2. Taylor, Slater; 3. Roy Hibbard, Sedalia; 4. Joe Dennis, Clinton; 5. Dean Marr, Jefferson City; 6. Don Cooper, Sedalia; 7. Paul Keeffe, California; 8. Sonny Roberson, Windsor; 9. Roy Hibbard, Marshall; 10. Jack Gray, Warrensburg.

First Heat Race: 1. Don Cooper; 2. Paul Keeffe; 3. Dean Marr; 4. Sonny Roberson.

Second Heat Race: 1. Roy Hibbard; 2. Sorrels; 3. Russ Hibbard; 4. Ken Taylor.

Trophy Dash: 1. Ken Taylor; 2. Sorrels.

Ladies Inter-City Golf Tourney Starts

The ladies' inter-city golf tournament started Tuesday at 9:30 a.m. with the first play at Jefferson City. Medalist for the first meet was a tie at 91 between Mrs. Genevieve Leslie, Jefferson City, and Mrs. Betty Aldrich, Columbia.

Sedalia's medalist was Mrs. Margaret Ann Parker who had a 93 for the 18-hole round with birdies on No. 2 and No. 5. Sedalia's high point golfer was Mrs. Joyce Comfort with 35½ points. Mrs. Lucy Hayes, Sedalia, shot a 96 to win a medalist for the third foursome.

Columbia leads the tournament with 251 points; Jefferson City comes in second with 239 points; Sedalia, third, with 210½ points and Fulton, fourth with 163½ points.

The Sedalia Country Club golfers participating in the tournament were Mrs. Lucy Maunders, Mrs. Margaret Ann Parker, Mrs. Lucy Hayes, Mrs. Marianna Pelham, Mrs. Hazel Brown, Mrs. Joyce Comfort, Mrs. Clarabelle Feig, Mrs. Muff Hulse, Mrs. Marjorie Garanson, Mrs. Jo Ann Walker.

The next intercity play will be at Columbia June 10.

Things Look Much Better For Dodgers

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Things haven't looked this good for the Los Angeles Dodgers in a long, long time. They've gained voter approval for the Chavez Ravine deal. Johnny Podres has junked his four-game slump with a three-hit shutout AND those Braves are coming to town.

The Dodgers are still in the cellar, but it's only a 4½-game spread to third place after last night's 3-0 job on Cincinnati. It was the first shutout of the year for Podres, who led the majors with six last season.

The Braves, again drawing a near-capacity crowd, moved into a one-game lead over second-place San Francisco by beating the Giants 10-9 in 11 innings. St. Louis whipped Pittsburgh 6-3 and gained a virtual tie for fourth place with Chicago. The Cubs bombed Philadelphia again 11-5 with Ernie Banks belting his 15th and 16th homers, high in the majors.

In the American League, the Chicago White Sox beat New York 7-2. Second-place Kansas City beat Washington 5-4. Cleveland defeated Boston 7-5 in 10 and Baltimore clipped Detroit 6-4.

Charley Neal drove in two Dodger runs with a 420-foot triple to center and a solo homer that cleared the nearby left field screen at the foul pole. Podres, now 5-4, breezed, twice retiring 11 in a row and no-hitting the Redlegs over the last 4 1-3 innings. He struck out seven and walked two.

Johnny Klippstein (2-2) lost it. A pinch-hit single by pitcher Warren Spahn clinched it for the Braves off losing reliever Stu Miller (1-3). Down 7-1 after three, they tied it 7-all in the ninth as Wes Covington belted a three-run homer on the first pitch from reliever Pete Burnside—who was sold to Phoenix a few hours later.

The two clubs swapped two-run spurts in the 10th. The Giants got theirs after two were out on consecutive pinch homers by Hank Sauer and Bob Schmidt off winning reliever Ernie Johnson (2-0).

Stan Musial hit his 10th homer and Ken Boyer rapped a two-run, inside-the-park homer for the Cards against Ron Kline (6-5). Jim Brosnan (6-4) won his third straight, with relief help, since coming to the Cards from the Cubs May 20. He gave seven hits, three by Frank Thomas, who hit his 14th home run.

Both of Banks' home runs came with a man on for the Cubs, his second an inside-the-ark belt as the Phil's Richie Ashburn crashed into the center field wall. Moe Drabowsky won his third with a 10-hitter, including two-run homers by Solly Hemus and Rip Repulski, while Robin Roberts lost his sixth in 11 decisions.

Banks Off to Best Start of His Career

CHICAGO (AP)—Ernie Banks, his bat booming this spring like never before, is off to the best start of his major league career, giving the Chicago Cubs hopes of ending an 11-year tenure in the National League second division.

The 27-year-old shortstop is currently batting .325 and leading the league in home runs with 16 and in runs batted in with 47. Obviously, he is one of the main reasons the Cubs are in fourth place.

The Cubs are near the .500 mark, with 24 won, 25 lost. They haven't finished in the first division since 1946, when they wound up in third place after winning the pennant in 1945.

Banks is far ahead of his home run pace of previous years, keeping up the homer production he started in spring exhibition games.

Ernie, whose 44 home runs in 1955 is a major league record for shortstop, says he's a warm weather hitter. But he's been hitting in midseason form all spring.

Sedalia Chiefs Meet Richmond Team Today

The Sedalia Chiefs will attempt to get back on the winning track tonight when they meet Richmond on the Liberty Park Diamond. Game time is 8 p.m.

Manager Bill Arnold is convinced the Chiefs have their bad game out of their system and are ready to make the Western Division a little rougher for all opponents.

Southpaw Bill Mateja is the probable Sedalia starter. He won three and lost none for the Chiefs last season. Another lefty, Jack Satterwhite, and righthander Mervyn McCown will be warmed up for emergency mound work.

Indoor 'Shots' Aid Golfer's Swing

By AL BALDING

Regardless of what kind of player you are, one of the best ways to improve is to hit balls indoors.

This helped me immeasurably. You are not concerned about the flight of the ball, only the mechanics of the swing. You don't care about results, rather causes.

This is especially good for beginners because this type of approach paves the way for a better understanding of the fundamentals, so important in the mastery of the game.

The average person taking a lesson and then playing a round expects too much in too short a time.

It is very hard to break a person of ingrained habit, particularly on the course where a player will invariably revert to his old way of hitting the ball.

After working on my game indoors in Toronto from January to March of 1951, I couldn't wait to get on the course in the spring.

When I did, I found that all I'd worked on during the winter months had become much more natural for me.

Short Price For Tim Tam At Belmont

NEW YORK (AP)—Tim Tam probably will be one of the shortest priced favorites in the history of the Belmont Stakes when he goes after a triple crown grand slam Saturday. But the Calumet Farm isn't forgetting what happened to Pensive in 1944.

With most of his Kentucky Derby and Preakness rivals scattered in search of easier pickings, it looks as if the Calumet colt will have about six opponents in the $100,000-added 3-year-old classic.

Early odds listed Tim Tam at 1 to 10 to capture his ninth straight race for Mrs. Gene Markey's Lexington, Ky., thoroughbred empire. In 1944, however, Calumet's Pensive missed a triple crown as the 1 to 2 favorite.

"You get a lot of rude awakenings in this business," said trainer Jimmy Jones, who finally announced he had decided to stick with jockey Ismael Valenzuela. Valenzuela was selected to ride Tim Tam after his regular booter, Bill Hartack, broke his leg a week before the Derby.

Hartack is back in action, riding with a leg brace for the past week.

But it is felt by Calumet that this triple crown effort is an extraordinary important event and that jockey Hartack, great as he is, quite possibly has not yet reached his top form," Jones said.

Only eight horses have won the coveted triple crown. The last was Calumet's Citation in 1948. Calumet also won the three big classics with Whirlaway in 1941.

"It seems that the mile and one half will be all right for Tim Tam," said Jones, referring to the Belmont distance. The derby was a mile and one quarter, the Preakness a mile and three sixteenths.

"Tim Tam is improving all the time, but you don't collect on the Belmont or any other race until you win the thing," Jones added.

John Wiest Wins Golf Play at Cedar Hills

John Wiest shot a 77 to take first-place honors in the men's golf match at Cedar Hills golf course, Warsaw, with a recorded 70 and a 7 handicap.

Second place honors went to Dave Hawley and Gordon Drake. In the ladies match only 9 holes were played. Mrs. Quentin Breashears of Wheatland was first with a three-way tie for second among Mrs. Dave Hawley, Mrs. Albert Parker and Mrs. Roscoe Miner.

A Scotch foursome will begin at 4:30 p.m. Thursday, June 12, at Cedar Hills golf course and a picnic for members and their families will follow completion of play. Sunday, June 22, is the date for the Medalist Tourney with men's 18 hole play beginning at 1 p.m. and ladies' nine-hole play at 1:45 p.m. A Scotch foursome is also planned for July 4 beginning at 4 p.m. to be followed by a picnic.

Town, Country Girls Softball Game Sunday

Town and Country Girls softball team will play its first game Sunday, starting at 8 p.m. against Lexington at 16th and Center.

Tigers Drop Back Into AL Eighth Place

By ED WILKS

What more can happen to the Detroit Tigers? Now they may have lost Harvey Kuenn, their leading -hitter, for a spell and they've plunked back into the American League cellar.

Kuenn's injury and the dip to eighth place came in the same instant last night. The onetime all-star shortstop who has switched successfully to center field this season suffered severe gashes near his right eye when he crashed into the wire fence in Baltimore on a futile try for a two-run homer by Gus Triandos that gave the Orioles a 6-4 victory.

Kuenn, 27, leading the injury-hobbled Tigers with a .341 batting average, underwent plastic surgery. His eye appeared to escape injury, but a doctor declined to say whether he would be able to play tonight.

The Chicago White Sox, meanwhile, ended their scoreless nonsense and beat the New York Yankees 7-2. Second-place Kansas City, 7½ games behind the Yankees, defeated Washington 5-4, and Cleveland beat Boston 7-5 in 10 innings.

In the National League, Milwaukee gained a one-game lead over San Francisco by beating the Giants 10-9 in 11 innings. Los Angeles beat Cincinnati 3-0 on Johnny Podres' three-hitter. St. Louis defeated Pittsburgh 6-3 and the Chicago Cubs walloped Philadelphia 11-5, with Ernie Banks hitting his 15th and 16th home runs, tops in the majors.

Triandos, who drove in three runs, wrapped it up for the Orioles with his ninth homer in the seventh after Kuenn had broken a 3-3 tie with a solo home run in the sixth inning. Gail Harris' third homer came with two on in the second for the Tigers, but the Orioles hustled back on Bob Boyd's two-run, pinch single in the fourth and an unearned run in the fifth.

Frank Lary (5-5) was the loser. George Zuverink won his first, in relief.

Southpaw Billy Pierce pitched a five-hitter against the Yankees and fanned six to wrest the strikeout lead from New York's Bob Turley, 55 to 53. Pierce also doubled in a two-run third against loser Tom Sturdivant (1-3) that ended a string of 32 scoreless innings for the White Sox, who had not had a hit in the last nine.

Yogi Berra and Mickey Mantle homered, the seventh for each, for the Yankees, while Don Mueller's two-run pinch single cracked a 2-2 tie in the seventh.

Mike Baxes had four singles in four trips and drove in the last two runs for the A's at Washington. Jack Urban won his fifth, with relief help, while winless Al Cicotte lost his third.

TV Actor Gets Ulcers But Likes Work

By WARD BOND
NEW YORK (AP)—There's no denying that the life of men like Maj. Seth Adams, the wagon master I portray in television's "Wagon Train" series, was a rugged one. But in all the books I've read about frontier life, I haven't yet run across a wagonmaster who got ulcers because of his work. Unfortunately, I can't say the same for the man who pretends to lead that existence once a week on TV.

Wayside Canine Home Holds Old Grads Day

KANSAS CITY (AP)—It'll be "Old Grads Day" Sunday at Wayside Waifs, Inc., and all 2,000 alumni are invited. Every one's a dog. Wayside Waifs is an organization of about 3,000 members which cares for stray and unwanted animals in an area of 400 square miles in and around Kansas City. The alumni are dogs it has put out for adoption. The one coming farthest will get a prize. So will the one adopted longest.

Calif., would have shaken the toughest of last century's wagonmasters. For one thing, we spent almost a full year making the trip which our real-life counterparts covered in half that time. And the problems of logistics, personnel and time topped anything that was dreamed of 95 years ago. The show's production office had to consider and solve — for the purposes of the story — all the difficulties that faced the wagon trains of that day. This was the easy part. Because then came the problem of finding good scripts. When the series was begun, in May 1957, there wasn't a single script which could be adapted to our format. Each of the 39 stories presented during the season was written especially for Wagon Train.

The newness of the format, that is, featuring Robert Horton and myself in alternating episodes, with each story built around a name guest star, required not only unusual stories, but a special style of writing. At least half of every Wagon Train episode was shot on location. Most of them were filmed in the vicinity of Thousand Oaks, Calif., about 40 miles from Hollywood. Others were made at more distant sites, with three filmed in the desert near Tucson, Ariz. Every day's shooting on location created tremendous problems. First, there was the risk of bad weather. Sites had to be selected for each scene that resembled terrain the wagon train was supposed to be passing through. Then the exact amount of equipment, horses, other livestock, props, costumes and the thousand and one things necessary to film a picture had to be ordered and transported each morning to the shooting site. The personnel necessary for a day's shooting on location ranged from 90 to 130. Special provision had to be made each day for transporting and feeding the entire company. Now that I've gotten this off my chest, I'll get ready for another season. Because regardless of the work and worry, I've never experienced a more exciting and self-satisfying year in my life.

Takes Long Walk To Deliver Letter

NEW YORK (AP)—Eight hundred miles is a long walk just to deliver a letter, but Max L. Cowan takes things like that in his stride. Cowan started hiking from Chicago last May 17 and arrived here Tuesday. A former amateur boxer and hiking enthusiast, he averaged 42 miles a day. Cowan, 45-year-old Utica, N. Y., stockbroker, yesterday presented a letter from Richard J. Daley, mayor of Chicago, to Mayor Robert F. Wagner. The Chicago official invited Wagner to attend the Pan American Games to be held there in August 1959. Cowan, employed by the Mohawk Valley Investing Co. in Utica, is 5 feet 5½ inches and weighs 155 pounds. He said he lost about 12 pounds. On weekends at home, Cowan said, he usually takes 40-mile hikes.

Attend Wedding At St. Charles

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Hinken and daughter, Kathy, of Sedalia, were weekend guests in St. Charles, where they attended the wedding of Miss Elizabeth Achephol of St. Charles and Le Roy Hunt of Windsor. Kathy was flower girl in the wedding. A reception at which there were 300 guests followed the ceremony. Attending the wedding also, were Mrs. Mae Buchholz and son, Cecil Buchholz, of LaMonte. Mrs. Buchholz is an aunt of the bridegroom.

TV Brings New Supply Of Gunmen

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Will the nation become gun shy? There seems to be no end to the quantity of Westerns being pressed on the American public. This was the year of the horse opera in TV, and next season will be more so.

Virtually all of the Westerns have been renewed, and naturally so, since they have dominated the audience ratings. And a new supply of gunslingers is being brought up for reinforcement. It is reported there will be 30 Western series on the home tube next fall. But all these free horse operas aren't deterring the movie makers. It will be a bang-up year for the Western in theaters, too. Gary Cooper just finished an oater and is starting another, "Hanging Tree." John Wayne is making "Rio Bravo," and Joel McCrea is loping through "The Bad Masters Story."

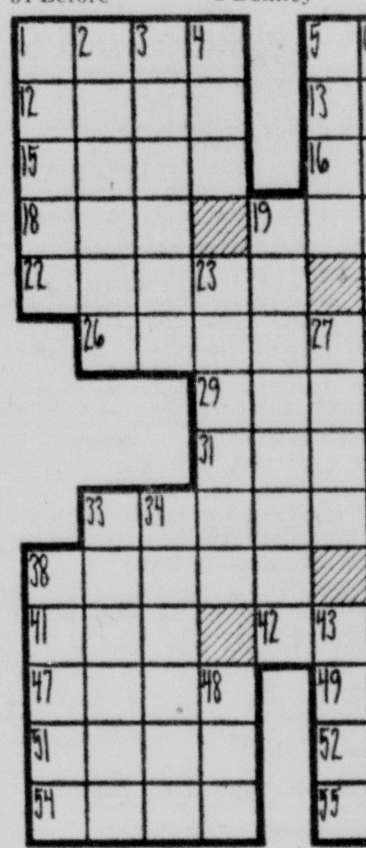

Don Murray, who has already traveled "From Hell to Texas," will next prowl "These Thousand Hills." Nunnally Johnson is seeking Frank Sinatra and Marlon Brando for "Brothers of the Flaming Arrow." Brando himself is planning a couple of Westerns. Gregory Peck produced a gigantic, "The Big Country." Fred MacMurray finds it's a "Good Day for a Hanging," and Glenn Ford is again heading out west.

This will continue until the public starts singing, "Lay That Pistol Down."

Bette Davis and Gary Merrill have rented a Beverly Hills home and will pursue their acting careers more strenuously. No more the easy life at their Portland, Maine, hideout. After renting the house, Bette took off for a couple of movies in Europe and Gary returned to Maine to help Governor Muskie campaign for the Senate. Sequel: Fess Parker ironed out his troubles with Walt Disney amicably. Fess will do five pictures in the next five years for Disney, is free the rest of the time. Sequel: Gale Storm will have to return to work after her Eastern vacation. Her "Oh Susanna" TV series has been renewed for another 52 weeks.

Bannister Insists He Wants Death Penalty In KC Murder Trial

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Arraigned yesterday on a first-degree murder charge, Frank Bannister, 40, insisted he wanted the death penalty. Bannister is accused of slaying his common-law wife, Mrs. Alea Maxine Cook, 25, with a butcher knife in their apartment Tuesday night. Addressing Magistrate Bernard Gnefkow, Bannister said: "Judge, I want the death penalty. I want the prosecutor to give me the death penalty. Life in prison would be only one thing—living with my conscience." Police quoted Bannister as saying he left his wife and five children in Texas to live with Mrs. Cook. He had lived with her three years and they had a 2-year-old daughter. "I told her I loved her and she sneered at me," Bannister told police. "Then I saw that butcher knife."

classified civil service workers, is expected to cost the government $42 million dollars a year. Eisenhower, who recently signed a bill giving postal workers a 10 per cent raise, had recommended a 6 per cent boost for both postal and classified employees.

Two Refrains For Having Own TV Show

By PAT BOONE
NEW YORK (AP)—When you get a television show of your own, as it happened to me this year, there's a question refrain that comes with it: "How's it doing?" meaning, What's the rating?

In my case there was a second refrain that wen with the first like a Siamese twin: "Why do you do it?" Meaning, Why with all the load of rehearsing and performing the weekly show, making recordings, personal appearances, filming and the rest, did you decide to continue at Columbia University until you got your degree?

What good will a college degree do you or your show? Or maybe it's just a publicity stunt?

You don't make the Dean's list by just showing up at class with a bright smile. Man, I just don't dig that college degree business. What'll it do for you? Man, right now, you've got it made.

I've tried answering, explaining. And sometimes I think I've made my point. But I'm not sure. So I just have to go on doing my days in the way that feels right for me and my family—a wife and four daughters.

I know what they mean when they say, "You've got it made." But I don't believe I've got it made by things outside or possessions or even a college degree. Finally, you only "have it made" by what you are, by what you have in you.

Long before I found I could make my way as a singer, I wanted to teach. Working with youngsters was my ambition when I started at North Texas State College. It still is. Maybe someday I'll be able to do it directly in the classroom. Right now, in every way I can — through the show, through talks with youth groups, through correspondence. Doing this is a responsibility. Just as being a father is a responsibility. Just as being a citizen. To handle these responsibilities and to handle them maturely, I need to know as much as I can learn

Pay Raise Seems Sure For Civil Service

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional approval appeared assured today for a 10 per cent pay increase for the government's one million white collar and supervisory civil service employees.

The Senate, which previously voted for a 7½ per cent increase, accepted yesterday the 10 per cent figure approved by the House while adding some amendments.

The House is expected to accept the Senate changes and send the bill to the White House, possibly today.

The pay boost, applying to all and keep on learning. College is one of the preparations I can make to meet this constant responsibility.

BARNYARD BUDDIES—Mares eat oats, and does eat oats . . . and so, it seems, do rabbits. Chilli, a horse belonging to Mrs. Charles T. Quinn, of Old Westbury, N.Y., has a couple of long-eared pals he shares his meals with. Chilli has become so attached to Captain Midnight, left, and Captain Hook, he won't eat unless they eat with him.

Your family will love it!

Yes—everybody loves the delicious, refreshing taste of Orange-CRUSH. It's the right drink for the whole family. Orange-CRUSH is flavored with the fresh juice of specially selected oranges. That's what makes it taste so good. It's good for you too! Take home a 6-bottle Handi-Pack for your family, next time you shop.

Tastes so good...so good for you!

Adult Should Drink Pint Of Milk Daily

Most American kids are already getting plenty of milk. Their moms see to it that they drink it down—but mom isn't using enough for her own best health. That's what University of Missouri extension specialists in nutrition say. They say even grown-ups ought to drink at least a pint a day.

Of course you don't need to drink all of your daily pint of milk in order to get the calcium, milk sugars, vitamins and other good things milk has to offer. A bite of cheese, a dish of ice cream, cottage cheese in a salad . . . will give you milk food values.

With milk on the plentiful foods list now, it's one of the bargain food buys this time of year. And since June is national "Dairy Month" there are all kinds of recipes being published for families who balk at drinking it straight.

Nutritionists say milk is most valuable for the tooth-strengthening calcium it provides. Of the many different forms of milk, the one which provides the most calcium for a dime is nonfat milk solids, or dried skim milk. Ten cents invested in this product will buy a day's supply of calcium for two adults, while the same money spent on fresh, evaporated milk, or buttermilk will buy a day's supply of calcium for just one adult.

But fresh whole milk is loaded with energy, about 165 calories worth. And it has protein, described as the "building block" of the body, and vitamins, and other minerals besides calcium.

As a food buy bargain during the coming month—milk is tops—for both the kids and the grown-ups in your family.

Non-Fat Dry Milk Makes A Good Food

Commercial food manufacturers long have used nonfat dry milk solids in their high quality foods. But only recently have homemakers discovered what an excellent and versatile food it is. For dry milk not only is rich in protein and calcium—two essential nutrients—but also, milk in this concentrated form can be used in dozens of easily made tasty dishes.

The baker is the biggest customer for nonfat dry milk solids. Bakers use nearly one quarter billion pounds annually. They long have known, as Mrs. Homemaker now knows, that yeast and quick breads and cookies have improved color, flavor, texture and food value when made with nonfat milk solids.

Workers in the foods research laboratory of the home economics department at the University of Missouri College of Agriculture have investigated ways of using nonfat dry milk solids in foods which can be prepared at home. These findings are reported in a publication available to the homemaker.

Miss Leta Maharg and Miss Margaret Mangel, co-authors of the publication, point out that homemakers who use nonfat dry milk in foods soon learn to appreciate its many advantages. They list these six:

The product is nutritious because more milk solids in the dry than in the fluid form can be used in a recipe, thus improving the nutritive value of the diet.

Dry milk is available in most communities when the fresh supply may be low. It does not deteriorate when stored properly.

It is convenient to use for it can be added to many recipes by combining it with the dry ingredients.

It is safe for heat treatment used for drying destroys bacteria which might cause disease.

Dry milk is easy to store. It does not require refrigeration.

It is economical since the initial cost is low and there need not be any waste.

A copy of the publication mentioned above may be obtained without charge at your county agricultural extension office. Or you may write direct to the Mailing Room, Mumfords Hall, Columbia. Ask for Bulletin 571: Using Nonfat Dry Milk Solids in Quick Breads and Cookies.

Among the recipes using dry milk given in this bulletin are: banana bread, muffins, waffles, gingerbread, orange bread and nut bread. Also given are many cookie recipes including chocolate bars, butterscotch refrigerator cookies, fruit filled cookies, macaroons and many others.

Sweet Springs Soldier In Training Exercise

Army Pfc. Mason C. Cundiff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest C. Cundiff, Sweet Springs, recently participated in a field training exercise with the 8th Infantry Division near Belsen-Hohne, Germany.

Cundiff, a driver in Company B of the division's 68th Armor, entered the Army in May, 1957 and received basic training at Ft. Riley, Kan. He arrived in Europe last December.

The 21-year-old soldier is a 1953 graduate of Sweet Springs High School. His wife, Judith, is with him in Germany.

Portable One-Man Rocket Unit Revealed

DENVILLE, N.J. (AP)—Development of a portable rocket unit allowing a man to run with the speed of a racehorse and jump extraordinary heights was described here today.

Reaction Motors, manufacturer of rocket fuels for missiles and aircraft, said it has run successful tests on a unit strapped to a man's body. The unit provides enough thrust to partially overcome the pull of gravity and give a man a degree of weightlessness.

The device will increase the mobility of troops in battle, a reaction Motors spokesman said, and the Army is "very much enthusiastic."

Perhaps significantly, the motor was conceived by an ex-GI—Alexander H. Bohr, a onetime Army technical sergeant, now an engineer for Reaction Motors.

Robert Mayer, supervisor of public information for the firm, said the rocket is not a flying machine. By reducing the effect of gravity on a man, the rocket allows him to make better use of his muscles.

"He can run faster, can jump across rivers, scales walls and cliffs, jump extraordinary heights, and will not be tired when he gets there," Mayer said.

Mayer pleaded patent secrecy in releasing only sketchy details of the device. He said no photos are available. Several other companies are working on the idea.

Several versions of the small motor have been tried out at Reaction Motors' test grounds at Lake Denmark, about seven miles from the main plant in this north-west New Jersey community.

"One of our engineers ran at superhuman speed," Mayer said. "According to calculations, the unit permitted him to go as fast as a good thoroughbred racehorse."

Extensionettes Meet With Mrs. W. Slentz

The Extensionettes met Thursday evening, May 28, at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Wilbur Slentz, California.

Thirteen members answered the roll call with "Helpful Hints". Three projects were chosen for the year to be carried out by the club. They are: A family is to be given clothing and toys which our club will make and collect. A five dollar donation is to be sent to Mercy Hospital in Kansas City and the club will aid the Kindergarten of the Public School by setting up a milk fund for one child during the next school year.

Mrs. Ed Glaser, president, read for the group the theme on "Harmony". The lesson on "Health and Safety" was given by Mrs. Jack Bowlin. The lesson stressed observing all safety rules and brought to the attention of the members the need for diabetes tests. The club voted to cooperate with the county council on the Diabetic Detection Clinic.

Following the business meeting games were led by Mrs. Dan Williams. A dessert course was served by Mrs. Richard Meyer and Mrs. Wilbur Slentz.

Custom's Origin

The custom of carrying the bride over the threshold came from ancient Rome. It was believed that evil spirits stood guard at the threshold of the new home, ready to trip the bride as she entered. To avoid this, the groom would carry her past the evil spirits.

Cookbooks Translated from the French

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Do you have a passion for fine food? Would you like to acquire a repertoire of French dishes? Do you like to travel and feast via reading, and then buttress this vicarious enjoyment with some delightful cooking in your own kitchen?

If such a preference and appreciation is yours, we suggest you look into some of the help and pleasure to be found in cookbooks. Charlotte Turgeon, an American who has lived abroad, has done a notable job in her books of translating and reworking French recipes. The second volume of "The Gourmet Cookbook" with its handsome format and color illustrations, includes many French specialties. A young woman we know is at present cooking her way through this new Gourmet volume. She's having a fine time—and so are her husband and friends!

You might also be interested in the new "The Food of France" by Waverly Root (Knopf) — even though it does not contain recipes, because it is a remarkable account of a gastronome's adventures. With observations on cooking and eating intertwined with historical and geographical facts, it is an open sesame to a knowledge of French food.

Anyone can gain worthwhile information about French food and drink from the recently published "Paris Bistro Cookery" by Alexander Wtt (Knopf). In addition to descriptions of Paris restaurants that offer exceptional value, there are recipes for some of the bistros' specialties.

Several years ago when I was in Paris, Alexander (Sandy) Wtt and his pretty Danish wife invited me to supper. I can still remember the Wtt's delightful informal hospitality, with Sandy serving a perfect fish en papillote and then going into the kitchen to finish the sauce for a blanquette de veau. "Paris Bistro Cookery" has the same true flavor of Paris as does the Wtt apartment overlooking the Seine.

With warm months ahead, you might like to try a classic French salad from "Paris Bistro Cookery." It is a specialty of Chef Quinson, in the Place Felix-Faure, where the proprietor is also chef. Sandy Wtt says "you can vary the ingredients according to your own taste and add or substitute sliced potatoes, cucumber, celery, raw cauliflower."

Things You May Not Know About Milk and Cheese

Milk is our best source of calcium.

The main function of calcium is not to build blood.

The proteins in milk are of high quality.

We do not have a reserve supply of calcium when we are born.

Pasteurized milk is important for health.

Skimmed milk is important for health.

Skimmed milk has all the food value of whole milk except the fat and vitamin A.

Non-fat dry milk does not cost more than fluid milk.

If you use skimmed milk you probably need to eat more green and yellow foods to make up the vitamin A you would get from whole milk.

Milk and cheese should not be cooked at a high temperature.

Twelve large dips of ice cream

(cut in broad strips), 1 sweet green pepper (cut in rings), 12 black olives, 1/2 cup cooked French beans, 1 tablespoon chopped onion, 2 tablespoons finely chopped fresh tarragon or chervil or parsley, 1 can tuna, 2 hard-boiled eggs, 4 tomatoes (quartered), eight fillets of anchovies.

Method: Rub a salad bowl (preferably a wooden one) with the garlic. Prepare the dressing with the oil and vinegar, salt and pepper. Mix well and pour into the bowl. Add the other ingredients, placing neatly on top the tuna, eggs, tomatoes and anchovies. Keep in a cool place and bring to the table when required. First serve the tuna, eggs, tomatoes and anchovies, and then the rest of the salad having turned it well in the dressing. Serves 4.

Jurors Picked For Mickey Cohen Trial

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Five men and seven women have been warned of the worst—and impaneled as a jury to try Mickey Cohen.

Cohen was charged with assault after federal narcotics officer Howard W. Chappell claimed the little ex-convict slugged him March 26 in an argument in Chappell's office.

Prospective jurors were asked by the prosecution yesterday if they would be prejudiced because government witnesses would have to quote "lewd and obscene phrases and words Cohen used in his assault on Chappell."

Cohen's attorneys asked them if they would be prejudiced against Cohen because of his reputation.

Use Your Freezer Efficiently

The size and shape of the freezer should be tailored made for the family and their house.

The size of the family, the amount of home produced food and if the freezer is used largely for storage of frozen food to save trips to town will make a difference in the size. The place where the freezer is placed may be a determining factor in size and shape.

Five or six cubic feet per person is desirable if much food is home produced, otherwise one to two cubic feet per person would be sufficient. One cubic foot will store from 25 to 35 pounds.

If freezing is done in the home freezer, limit the number of pounds to two or three per cubic foot—i.e., 16 to 24 pounds would be the limit for an 8 cubic feet freezer.

The freezer will be more efficient if thick layers of frost are not allowed to collect. Defrosting once or twice a year is usually sufficient. Follow the directions that come with the freezer in operating it.

The cost of freezing will vary greatly—10 to 30 cents per pound—depending on how efficiently it is used.

The production needs to be planned to prevent overloading or having a half-filled freezer.

It rarely pays to freeze foods commonly available and relatively inexpensive at all seasons.

Good use of a home freezer makes the need for extra help for entertaining for special occasions as silo filling unnecessary. It provides opportunity to take advantage of special prices on foods that are abundant and sometimes on wholesale prices.

Plan for "Unplanned" Meals

It happens to everyone, the unplanned company meal. The wise hostess who anticipates the unexpected can get a meal in a matter of minutes if she has a freezer and a shelf of canned foods.

Packaged frozen fried chicken heats in ten minutes in a hot broiler or oven. Canned little potatoes combined with canned or cooked frozen peas are party fare, combined with cream of chicken soup and heated in ten to 15 minutes.

Frozen rolls, foil wrapped, are quickly heated. Canned pickled peaches add the needed tartness and color which may replace or supplement a salad.

For dessert, serve toasted sliced frozen cake and semi-thawed frozen berries over ice cream. Add coffee, of course.

Knowing two or three pre-planned menus of freezer and canned food can prevent "hostess nerves" when you must serve a company meal in a matter of minutes.

A basket of frozen quick snack foods is a real help to some families—as frozen lemonade, sandwiches, doughnuts, cookies, fruit breads, and sweet rolls. Sometimes the prepared frozen foods are about as much trouble to thaw out as to cook from the beginning.

Too, freezing and thawing always softens foods some, so do not boil foods entirely done.

Freezing the Lunch-to-Carry Luncheon foods as sandwiches, cookies and some sweets freeze well and make for better balanced lunches. To avoid mixing flavors, package each item separately. The frozen lunch may even taste better at noon than one packed fresh that morning, and kept in a warm room for several hours.

Sandwich fillings suitable for freezing are: meat, poultry and cheese spreads of all kinds, egg yolk mixtures, peanut butter, other nut pastries and ground dried fruit. Fillings that do not freeze well are raw vegetables, hard cooked egg whites and preserves or jelly. Raw vegetables and fruits wrapped carefully are kept crisp and cold in the lunch box by the frozen foods.

Making sandwiches from frozen slices of bread may save time and help to keep the fresh quality of bread. The slices separate readily when the loaf is frozen and they are easy to spread evenly.

Home Freezing Improves Meals

In 1952, three-fourths of farm families and one-third of other rural families in the North Central states had their own freezers or rented lockers. The families who had freezing facilities had more home produced food and this made it possible for them to have more total food—especially meat, fruit and vegetables at a little less expense than farm families who did no home freezing. With frozen storage, these families ate food with a retail value of $7.25 a person but the food they bought came to only $3.75 a person. Of this food, 46 per cent was home produced. The families without frozen storage ate food worth $6.70

Matter of FACT

In addition to the Vatican City, there is another independent state within Italy—the Republic of San Marino, on the east coast, near the Adriatic Sea. Only 23 square miles in area with a population of about 13,500, San Marino was founded in the fourth century by a group of Christians escaping religious persecution.

© Britannica Jr. Encyclopedia

a person and of that $4.15 was purchased — only 37 per cent home produced.

Non-farm families with freezing facilities had $7.10 worth of food per person of which $5.75 was purchased. Where there were no freezing facilities, $6.40 per person with $5.65 purchased with only 8 per cent home produced.

How Well Do We Eat?

There is still much to do to bring the quality of family diets up to recommended nutrition goals. A survey shows that the nutrients in which diets are most needed in improvement are calcium and ascorbic acid. Three out of ten families had food supplies that furnished less than the amount of calcium recommended by the National Research Council. One out of four were below the full amount of ascorbic acid. From 15 to 20 per cent of the households had diets below recommended levels in Vitamin A, thiamin and riboflavin. A tenth or fewer had food furnishing less than the recommended amounts of protein, iron and niacin. Few of the families, however, had diets that were very low in these nutrients. Eight per cent of all families were estimated to have food supplies furnishing less than two-thirds of the recommended allowance for calcium. Diets of even smaller percentages were below the two-thirds mark in other nutrients.

James Roosevelt Wins Democratic Candidacy

Experts Say Milk Is A Basic Dieting Food

Those of you who are weight watching should know that milk is low in calories, yet contributes generous amounts of protein, calcium and other nutrients that are so necessary in our diets.

A cup of whole milk contains about 165 calories and skim milk and buttermilk contain only about half as much—about 85 calories a cup.

You should note, though, that when fat is removed from milk, most of the Vitamin A goes with it. But otherwise the low-calorie forms of milk provide the same amount of protein and other nutrients that whole milk does.

Nutritionists agree that milk should be a basic food in the kind of reducing program most likely to succeed—a well-balanced diet high in protein, low in calories.

Robins Thrive After Being Rescued In Recent Storm

After a storm in the late afternoon recently, Capt. and Mrs. Garrett Stephenson, 1916 West Third, saw a mother robin making quite a fuss on the ground in the boulevard parkway in front of their house, and Mrs. Stephenson went over to see what the storm had done to the robin nest they had been watching.

Sure enough, there on the ground were three tiny featherless baby robins. The mother robin had flown back to the tree where her nest was, and Mrs. Stephenson felt certain that there was still another baby in the nest. She gathered the three up and carried them home. One was lively, but the other two were almost lifeless.

The Stephensons put them in a box and began feeding them warm sugared milk with an eye dropper, and bread. Then they began digging fishing worms to feed them and finally enlarged on the menu to include dog food.

The three little robins thrived on the care they were given and Capt. Stephenson fixed a box for them with screen on two sides. They named the robins Frieda, Frances and Frankie.

When Mrs. Stephenson goes out to feed them, and they are fed about every 30 or 40 minutes, the robins are ready. When she opens the box they hop right up on her lap and open their mouths. They are all feathered out now and are learning to fly.

Capt. and Mrs. Stephenson let them out in the yard where they run around and try to use their wings. They have fun fluttering around in the bird bath, too. They really wouldn't have to take a bath themselves, however, because the Stephenson's cocker spaniel loves them, goes right up to them and licks them as if trying to clean them up. The German shepherd the Stephensons brought back with them from Bermuda, and the other dog whose dog food the little robins share, is afraid of them and won't go near them.

The Stephensons have learned that there was another baby robin left in the nest and the mother robin is now teaching it to fly, too.

Raising the baby robins is not exactly a new experience for Capt. and Mrs. Stephenson. They raised one last year when they found it out of its nest. That one they called Ozzie.

Mrs. Stephenson thought she might get some professional help on what to feed baby birds, so she called a veterinarian who told her there wasn't any use in her trying; it couldn't be done. So Mrs. Stephenson tried out the bread, the milk and sugar, the fishing worms—and then the dog food on Ozzie, who grew fast and sturdy. When he got so he could fly, he would go on up in the trees and come back when she called his name. Then one day he flew off somewhere and never did come back. They have motion pictures of Ozzie and have been taking some of Frieda, Frances and Frankie, too.

Capt. Stephenson is stationed at Whiteman Air Force Base, in maintenance. They came to Sedalia 4½ years ago, in January, 1934.

Stockholders attending annual meetings have had a wide variety of forecasts to ponder. These range from flat statements by corporate executives that business is better and the outlook brighter to warnings that while there are glimmers here and there signs of economic strength are insufficient yet to warrant any real optimism.

Bankers and their economists also are inclined to read the tea leaves differently.

In its June survey the Guaranty Trust Co. of New York says: "Signs of leveling out are no longer faint and sketchy. Rather, they have become quite numerous and are beginning to fall into an impressive pattern."

In its June letter the First National City Bank of New York says: "The business reports in May have included signs of betterment, which have improved business sentiment even though they supply no proof that a real turning point in the recession has been reached."

Guaranty Trust warns against believing there will be no more declines in some sectors of the economy, noting that "the summer period is always characterized by substantial seasonal swings, which are difficult to allow for."

And the National City hedges its stand by saying, "It is quite possible that this summer's flurry of plant shutdowns, inventory reductions, and increased unemployment will mark the climax of the decline."

Sedalians Attend Insurance Meeting

Dee O. Van Winkle and Duane L. McMullen, Sedalia, will be among those attending the annual sales conference of the Security Benefit Life Insurance Company at the Hotel del Coronado, Coronado, California, June 12 through 15. Van Winkle and McMullen are local general agent and representative, respectively, for the company and qualified for the trip on the basis of the volume of life insurance written during 1937.

Each year the company sends a select group of life insurance underwriters from its operating territory of 29 states and Hawaii to the sales conference, at which time they have the opportunity to meet with representatives from the home office in Topeka, Kan., and are introduced to the latest developments in the field of life insurance.

KJU Class Meets With Mrs. Martin

KJU Class meeting of LaMonte Christian Church met at the home of Mrs. Edna Martin on May 14 with Miss Mabel Harris as assisting hostess.

Fourteen members and two guests were present. After a lovely meal to which all contributed, the business meeting was opened by Mrs. Alexander.

Mrs. Willard Richey gave the devotional and roll call was answered by each one telling of her graduation from the eighth grade and high school. Mrs. Ruth Price had charge of the program on Mother's Day. Mrs. Fred Schenk gave a report on the old people's home in St. Louis to which Mrs. Elizabeth Schenk has gone to make her home for a while.

The meeting was adjourned and the club will meet with Mrs. John Little in June.

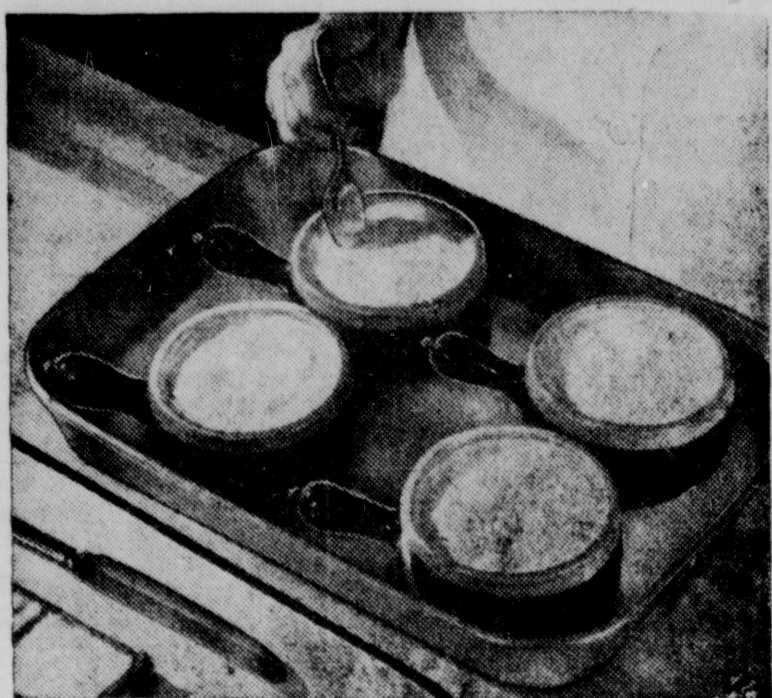

Mrs. Wasson Hostess To Extension Meeting

Mrs. Raymond Wasson was hostess to the Thursday Extension Club on May 15 with 16 members answering roll call with "How or Where I Would Like to Spend My Vacation." Five children and one visitor were also present.

Mrs. Robert Anderson presided over the business meeting which opened with the club song. The devotional was given by Mrs. Wasson and the lesson on insurance, wills, abstracts, etc., was by Miss Opal O'Brian. She was presented with a basket filled with small tokens of appreciation.

The June meeting will be with Mrs. Wilson Tyler.

Soup Mix Modernizes Menus

PALATABLE PORTABLE: This "savory cheese soup" was concocted from an envelope of onion soup mix. Modern soup mixes are improvements of the portable soups of the 1800s.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Associated Press Food Editor

Going camping this summer? On a long motor trip with an outdoor cooking outfit in the back of the car? Running up meals on a boat? Or is your family "camping out" in a summer cottage with limited kitchen facilities?

The chances are that when you make up your food lists for such vacation enterprises, you'll include some neat envelopes of soup mix.

Small enough to tuck into a pocket, these mixes are in our opinion some of the best of modern quick food products. Maybe because no one has yet put into them the synthetic vanilla that is omnipresent in cake mixes.

This soup mix idea isn't exactly new. A century ago American cookbook authors gave directions for a portable soup. "If you have any friends going on the overland journey to the Pacific, a box of portable soup may be a most useful present to them," one of these early lady authors counseled.

Those portable soups of the 1800s took several days to make and were extracts of meat and bones. When the soup was finally boiled for the last time for six or seven hours, it was brought "to a proper thickness, which should be that of a stiff jelly, when hot; and when cold, it should be like hard glue."

"If well made it will keep for many months in a cool, dry place—A piece of this glue, the size of a large walnut, will, when melted in water, become a pint bowl of soup." Then, just as we might advise nowadays, cooks were told that "by using less water, you have it much richer."

"If there is time and opportunity, boil with the piece of soup a seasoning of sliced onion, sweet marjoram, sweet basil, or any herbs you choose." This counsel

"to doctor up" portable soup reminds us of our present way of fixing up soups to give variety and extra good flavor.

Those pieces of soup are a far cry from the delicious portable soups of today. Take one of our modern favorites, that prepared dry onion soup. Small shreds of dried onion team with a full-flavored powder containing beef extract, onion powder and vegetable protein. When you want to change the onion soup mix's flavor, add grated cheese and carrot, a few extra seasonings and white sauce to it and you'll have what we think is an unusually delicious dish. Try it now on your family; keep it in mind for those rainy spells later on when bowls of hot soup in front of a log fire are one of summer's delights.

Lamb and pork also are being pushed by some stores this week, although leg of lamb is 4 to 10 cents a pound higher in places.

Supplies of lettuce are plentiful as nearby crops augment heads shipped from Western growing areas. Asparagus also is in a standing buy, although supplies are tapering off. Spinach, radishes and onions from nearby fields, rhubarb, cooking greens and southern cabbage and squash also are very good buys.

In the same category are snap beans, broccoli, onions from Texas and potatoes. Endive and escarole are reported somewhat higher this week.

Bananas and pineapples still rank as the best bets among fruits, but there's a promise of better bargains ahead from the first peaches of the season.

Requirements: Candidates are elected to the Hall of Fame for Great Americans every five years. Only seven candidates may be admitted in any election and candidates must have been dead at least 25 years.

Method: Stir onion soup mix into boiling water and simmer 10 minutes. In a 2-quart saucepan or kettle over low heat melt butter and cook carrots until tender—3 to 5 minutes. Blend in flour, then onion soup mixture; stir until thickened. Add milk, cheese, salt, pepper and mustard. Stir constantly over low heat until hot. Do not boil. Makes 4 servings.

Ingredients: 2 tablespoons prepared dry onion soup mix (just as it comes from the 1½ ounce envelope), 1 cup boiling water, 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 2 tablespoons finely grated carrot, 2 tablespoons flour, 3 cups milk, 1 cup medium-grated cheddar cheese, ½ teaspoon salt, pepper, ¼ teaspoon mustard.

Wait Until The Baby Cries

In many communities June is city budget month when it is the duty of City Council Committees on Finances and Taxes to estimate necessary expenses for the ensuing year and the revenues for such year. Based on the estimate the committee also prepares a budget for each city department. Thereafter it is presented to council for adoption. Sometimes this has not been accomplished until as late as August, although the ordinance defining the powers and duties of the committee say the estimate shall be made on or before the first day of June.

Sedalia's new Finance committee has complied by making an estimate. These are only tentative figures which will undergo examination by councilmen in meeting. The figures present a dilemma to the finance committee which has spent long hours using a pruning hook on the anticipated budget. Tentatively, revenue for the ensuing year is estimated at $836,000, expenditures at $881,000. That's $45,000 short of making both ends meet. On this basis, no allowance can be provided for increased appropriation requests for such departments as city parks which last year had $36,000 in the budget, a sum far inadequate to meet current public demands.

The big obstacle to preparing a balanced budget is the earmarking of the parking meter revenue of approximately $65,000 toward paying for the downtown city parking lots. Approximately $55,000 of that amount should be diverted toward retiring revenue bonds.

Scanning the estimated revenue picture in contrast with increased wages, salaries, and operating costs of the city has led the finance committee to consider a plan to charge residents a fee for city garbage collection which hitherto has been underwritten by the city. Last year the Sanitation Department expenditures were $91,521.47. Total salaries alone approximated $67,000.

Many neighboring cities charge a fee of $1.00 or $1.25 per month for garbage and trash collection. This information is being studied by the finance committee with a view to suggesting to council adoption of a similar method for Sedalia.

Abandoning a long standing policy of free garbage collection likely will not meet with enthusiastic response of Sedalians. The finance committee as well as councilmen are aware of this. Hence they are giving the problem studied attention and may yet come up with another solution, as remote as this may appear to be at the moment.

In the meantime Sedalians might as well make up their minds to the fact that their city departments cannot function by allowing excessive demands for services, wages and salaries when these cannot be paid for out of revenue insufficient to meet expenditures.

Deficit spending at the national level will never be corrected if that policy is adopted by grass roots communities.

While the finance committee is going through the birth pangs of delivering a healthy budget, Papa taxpayer may just as well resign himself to walking the floor quietly and figuring out how he's going to pay more to the doctor than he anticipated if a Caesarian operation is necessary.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Hundreds Of Near Misses In The Air

By DREW PEARSON
WASHINGTON—From pilots who have narrowly escaped collision, the Civil Aeronautics Board has put together a harrowing story of traffic congestion in our skies. The airways are getting so full of planes over some cities that they may soon be almost comparable to a Times Square traffic jam.

The CAB is studying these close calls for ideas on how to improve air safety. To avoid alarming the traveling public, the pilots' reports have not been released to the press, but here are the highlights. They show that drastic action must be taken to curb military flights in commercial airways and improve ground regulation.

The CAB study dated May 19 shows that ground control is no guarantee of safety. A military pilot who pulled his lumbering cargo plane up sharply in order to avoid colliding with an airliner reported: "I questioned the controller as to the lack of information usually given when other aircraft are in the vicinity of aircraft being monitored. The answer was, 'You didn't request that type information.'"

A similar experience was reported by the pilot of an Aero Commander who almost crashed into an Air Force B-29 while approaching New York's Idlewild international airport.

"Idlewild advised they had no other aircraft under their control," complained the pilot. "I asked if they had other aircraft in their scope. Their reply was that they 'Don't have altitudes.'"

In other words, Idlewild had no height-finder and could not report the altitude of planes on the radar scope.

"Ain't Seen You 'Til Yet!"

A Navy pilot, whose fighter whistled a few feet over a private plane, though both were under radar control, was surprised when the private pilot frantically contacted him.

"I ain't seen you 'til yet!" responded the Navy man.

A Constellation, also under radar control, narrowly missed a small P-24. Afterward, the disgruntled Constellation pilot complained: "Radar's performance was very disappointing as we had been in contact with them (ground control) for four minutes. Yet they gave us no advisory of traffic."

After a DC-6 airliner almost collided with an Air Force jet bomber 900 feet over El Paso, Tex., the DC-6 pilot suggested that the Air Force should practice its instrument-landing approaches at near-by Columbus or Carlsbad where the air traffic is less congested.

"There are too many 'near misses' around here," he reported, "especially at night."

Another airline pilot, complaining against lackadaisical ground control, reported: "Tower advised us Cessna (private plane) in area, but gave us no location. I was watching instruments, first officer looking for Cessna, but first saw it as we began to pass underneath it. It was descending 'piggy back.' Had we continued we would have collided. We turned to right and advised tower. He didn't say much."

Pilots Too Busy

Another complaint is that pilots are either too busy or too apathetic to keep a sharp lookout for other planes.

After a near crash between two DC-6B airliners one pilot grumbled: "About 5 per cent of old captains can't be bothered with doing their job—read the whole trip or talk to stewardesses or passengers. Result: Only one set of eyes looking out, if any. I deadheaded on trip of four hours, 30 minutes. Captain and co-pilot read and caught up with outside paper work. Auto-pilot flew at times 30 miles off course. Into New York area still reading."

Another airline pilot complained after a narrow escape: "Too many cockpit duties plus necessary company paper work was responsible for this near miss."

The pilots complained most vigorously against the CAB practice of permitting planes to fly 1,000 feet on top of the weather without assigning them a definite altitude. The clouds, they say, aren't always the same height and they can never tell whether traffic may be coming in an opposite direction.

One pilot, whose plane was narrowly missed by a giant B-52 jet bomber authorized to fly 1,000 feet above the clouds, protested: "We don't like 1,000-feet-on-top clearance. But if we have to live with it, I wish to hell some controller can advise us of pertinent traffic."

Another pilot, after a near collision under similar circumstances, simply reported: "This 1,000-feet-on-top has got to go!"

Still another, flying 1,000 feet above the weather, came so close to an airliner that he "could see passenger in lounge of other aircraft reading newspaper."

After two B-47 jet bombers almost collided in mid-air, the pilots blamed the 1,000-feet-on-top clearance. Reported one: "I feel that 1,000-on-top should maintain 1,000 feet on top of all clouds. Would like to see fixed assigned altitudes for all times. High speed and closure rates of jet aircraft just don't allow for recognition and evasive action until it's too late."

Several complaints have also been filed against Air Force pilots for "buzzing" civilian aircraft. One Convair pilot reported: "An interceptor came too close after making a run from port to starboard, then pulled up from underneath. Possibly a young aviator feeling his oats."

Another pilot complained: "While flying at 3,000 feet, two jets came straight toward me passing 50 feet to my left. I felt it was impossible to get out of their way. This is my third encounter with the military. I believe this was deliberate."

A private pilot, who almost collided with an F-80 jet fighter from Duluth Air Force Base, charged: "This was a clear case of a jet fighter pilot giving our town a buzz job at high speed and low altitude. I don't believe he saw me. I had sun in my eyes and didn't see him until he was nearly in front of me."

These repairs and dozens like them have been accumulating for some time in CAB files. They indicate that drastic steps must be taken to regulate traffic in the congested airways or that some short eastern hops such as between New York, Philadelphia, and Washington may have to be ruled out.

Khrushchev's Latest--'You Wanna Play?'

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — "You wanna play?"

That's the essence of Nikita Khrushchev's latest letter to President Eisenhower, proposing a big American-Soviet trade program and Soviet purchase of machinery from this country.

Play or not, this fat and reasonably happy land is in for it. The United States faces a war with the Soviet Union — a trade war, not shooting — which could be deadly when it really gets rolling.

The Soviets will use trade, plus aid, not for profit but for political penetration.

The Soviets, although they've made astonishing scientific and industrial progress, still lag behind this country in total industrial production, particularly in consumer goods.

Before they can really start a giant export trade program with the world — not just the United States — they will have to satisfy consumer demands of their own people.

First reaction in this government to Premier Khrushchev's proposal has been negative, particularly to his request for extensive credit.

But, with or without American help, a nation which has surpassed us in missile development will find a way to get the machinery it needs to satisfy its own people's wants and have plenty left over for some exporting.

Looking Backward...

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

1933
Missouri's exhibit at the Century of Progress fair in Chicago, assembled at the Missouri State Fair grounds here, opened Sunday at the Hall of States building on the exposition grounds. An outdoor garden and an Ozark cabin were featured in the display.

1933
Miss Bettye Reeder, Beverly Hills, Calif., with her aunt, Miss Rosemary Burrows, whom she had been visiting, were in St. Louis for a few days with relatives and friends, among them Lon M. Burrows, of the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

1933
Carl Vance, son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer B. Vance, South Lamine, returned from Canyon, Tex., where he attended the West Texas Teachers College during the 1932-33 term.

FORTY YEARS AGO

Earl Hoberecht, formerly of the news staff of The Sedalia Democrat, since employed on the Springfield Republican and Springfield Leader, arrived home, having resigned his position there, and after a visit in Colorado with his mother planned to enlist in the Navy as an apprentice seaman.

1918
After being off duty for the past six months, A. J. Hawkins, an MKT conductor, resumed his run in that capacity.

1918
Capt. D. H. Robinson, formerly assistant superintendent of the Missouri Pacific in the Sedalia district, commissioned in the Officers Reserve Engineering Corps, received orders to report at Camp Dix, Md., for training before being assigned overseas duty.

Only last April Khrushchev vowed war against the West with consumer goods. He said: "Wars mean killing people. Why should we want war when we have other means—I mean consumer goods."

The more the Soviets raise the living standards of their own people, the more will be the attraction of communism for the backward peoples who want to move into the 20th century fast. They saw the Soviets do it in 40 years.

Only last week the Committee for Economic Development — a private, nonprofit group which analyzes economic problems — reported the Soviet Union is threatening the West through an economic offensive already under way by winning good will in underdeveloped countries with trade and loans.

Since the Soviets control their entire economy they should provide competition of a kind and on a scale this country has never encountered. For example: they could cut the price of any item to undersell goods from the high-priced free enterprise American economy. Add to this unpleasant prospect the industrial development of Red China which in time should be able to find a broad market for its exports in Asia and the Pacific.

It's likely communism as we know it will change and soften — since nations like plants and animals go through evolutionary states — but the most to be expected is a softening into democratic socialism, not capitalism.

But Socialism in the Soviet Union or China would still mean government control of natural resources and the means or production and distribution. In short, still a controlled economy.

The idea of American and Soviet trade or Soviet purchase of American machinery isn't something recent with Khrushchev. He's been talking of it for years, if only in informal talks with visiting Americans.

Poor Or Unused Intelligence

By JOSEPH A. DEAR
Of Our Washington Bureau
WASHINGTON — American diplomacy was quite unprepared for the triumphant return of de Gaulle.

He had been written off long ago by the State Department. The canvass was nearly completed before there was an awakening here.

Now the President and Secretary of State have made flattering overtures. "I happen to be one of the people who liked him," like said de Gaulle at his last press conference.

Whether this will satisfy the touchy Frenchman is a question. American diplomacy was one of the obstacles that thwarted his bid for political power after the war, and he can assert that but for us the Cross of Lorraine would have been raised then.

This is not the first time American diplomacy has been wide of the mark. For example, the reception accorded Vice President Nixon on his Latin American tour was a painful surprise to the upper echelon of the State Department. And that indicates we had seriously underestimated the latent hostility of our neighbors to the South.

A case might be made against the diplomacy United States has been practicing in South East Asia. Secretary Dulles was cool to the Sukarno regime in Indonesia, and when rebellion erupted in Sumatra Dulles publicly displayed sympathy for their cause.

This in itself was a flip, for Sukarno was a favorite for a time. He lost status when he advocated a concept of "guided democracy" which permitted Communist participation in the government.

Now Sukarno is winning out. The rebellion has been suppressed. In the process, the Communists have lost ground too. But even though Dulles can applaud that development, it is difficult to imagine that Sukarno will react with warmth to American diplomacy again.

In Lebanon, American diplomacy came another cropper. President Chamoun was pro-West, and we encouraged him to seek another term of office. His willingness to do so became known, and that touched off wide-spread rioting. That we hadn't foreseen.

State Car Buying To Be Surveyed

Car buying practices of the state government are being surveyed and changes may be made to save taxpayers money.

State agencies buy new cars as the old ones wear out. That means that although the state owns nearly 4,000 vehicles, it buys cars generally in lots of one or two at a time — with the exception of the highway patrol.

Several other states have found they can save considerable by purchasing and selling state cars in large quantities. Missouri's new comptroller, John Schwada, has learned that North Carolina's government vehicles are sold after 18 months of use for about the same price the state had paid. He said North Carolina found that by getting new vehicles every 18 months instead of every three years, $200,000 a year was saved.

State agencies do not have to pay federal excise taxes, sales or property taxes on automobiles and therefore they can buy cars at a much cheaper rate than an ordinary citizen. Schwada said a group of low priced cars purchased by North Carolina cost $1480 each. The same cars sold for an average of $1455 at public auctions after 18 months of use.

Schwada's office is now surveying state purchases to see if Missouri can purchase on a fleet basis.

The comptroller also indicated his office would recommend that the state buy only cars in the low priced field in the future—except those purchased for high officials. "There's no reason," he said, "for state employees to ride around in high priced cars just because they're more comfortable. Good reasons will have to be shown before we approve purchase of any car above the low priced range."

As comptroller, Schwada must approve all state bills. He said he is taking a close look at all state car repair bills. "I don't know if some gouging is going on, but I'd hit the ceiling if repairs on my private car cost as much as the state has to pay."

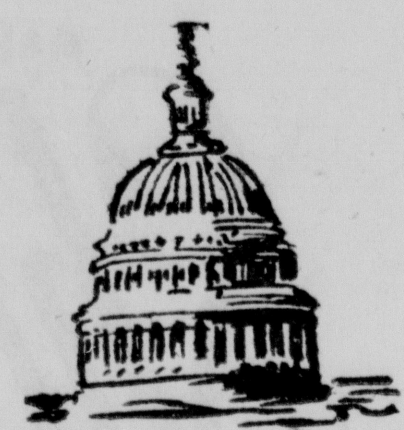

Governor Makes Flights In 15-Year-Old Plane

Governor James T. Blair's troubles in getting to the National Governors' conference at Miami recently point out the drastic need for a fast, safe, plane for use of state officials.

Blair flew to the Miami conference with a party of eight in an Air National Guard C-47 built 15 years ago. The outmoded craft is safe enough — as safe as any 15-year-old plane — but it can barely cruise at 150 miles an hour.

As the plane came into Atlanta, Ga., for refueling Capt. Richard Shelley, the pilot, noticed a red flashing light on the instrument panel, indicating that the landing gear was not locked down for landing. The green flashing light which says go-ahead, landing gear safe, was also on. He took no chances and tested the gear by bouncing it on the ground before setting the plane down. It was discovered that the landing gear was in good order but the warning system was on the blink.

Gov. Blair makes frequent use of planes, both commercial and the National Guard's C-47s. The guard aircraft must be used enough hours a month for their pilots to keep up their flight time. The governor tries to schedule his trips to enable the pilots to get in these requirements without flying an empty plane. This isn't very convenient for the governor and besides C-47s don't fit into all airfields in the state.

The governor must frequently move from the capital city to St. Louis to Kansas City — all in a day. It's too much distance by auto. It would obviously make his job easier and less tiring if the governor could make all his duty trips in the state by air.

A fair sized, modern twin engine plane would be put to good use not only by the governor. Other state officials are also busy and have frequent business trips to make. A priority could be set up, and ostensibly the utmost use could be gotten for the state's investment.

Thinking It Over

By Robert L. Diefenbacher, D.D.

A number of man-made satellites are circling our world in God-made space. Most people have never seen the tiny specks speeding in their orbits at speeds beyond normal human comprehension. Millions of people go through their daily routine without giving a thought to these little stars which constantly send their messages from outer space to earth-bound scientists.

Scores of people look on God in almost the same way that they consider these satellites. To them God goes circling around the universe in some unexplainable way. He casually observes man, but man is influenced little by Him. They understand that there are a few who keep in touch with Him but many are not interested.

God is no Sputnik. He is not a remote speck on the horizon of man's imagination. He is not an object of indifference. God is alive and real. He is as near as hands and feet. We had better keep in touch with Him.

Mrs. Tucker Ends Career As Teacher

Oak Grove rural school closed Friday, May 16, with Mrs. W. P. Tucker ending her career as a teacher. She was presented with potted flowers, a climbing Blaze rose and trellis by the children and their parents. She has taught at Oak Grove for the past five years and received a number of lovely personal gifts also.

Mrs. J. E. Kent, who will teach at Oak Grove next year, was introduced and welcomed.

On Sunday after school closed the PTA served a basket dinner to the patrons and pupils.

After the dinner a program was presented by the Junior American Club in the form of a regular meeting with the president, Melvin Turner, Jr., presiding.

The J. S. C. prayer opened the program and the pledge of allegiance to the flag was followed by the singing of the national anthem. Mrs. E. F. Yancey accompanied the singers. The JAC motto and then the creed were given.

The first grade gave a demonstration in reading followed by a test in a work book. The second grade presented a reading selection. The third grade gave a reading and spelling demonstration.

The boys from the fourth and fifth grades presented a play; "The Constitutional Convention" with the following characters: George Washington of Virginia, Melvin Turner; Elbridge Gerry of Massachusetts; Jack Shackelford; Edmund Randolph of Virginia; David Schlobohm; Benjamin Franklin of Pennsylvania; David Turner; William Patterson of New Jersey; Stephanie Stephens; James Wilson of Pennsylvania; Gary Holmes; Alexander Hamilton of New York, Larry Arnett.

The Daughters of the American Revolution sponsor the Junior American Citizen's clubs in schools to help teach the ideals for which our nation stands, so that boys and girls may have a clear understanding of the privileges this country offers them and each child will be educated to become a good American citizen.

Present from Osage Chapter, DAR, were: regent, Mrs. L. H. Hodges, JAC chairman, Mrs. C. F. Scotten, Mrs. E. F. Yancey and Miss Jessie Browneller.

David Turner read his essay, "Our Heritages" that won the first national award in Washington, D.C. Mrs. Hodges presented the prize and certificate to David, then presented a personal gift later.

Mrs. Scotten gave interesting highlights of JAC work.

Pictures of the group were taken by Mrs. Frank Arnold.

After the closing of the JAC program the boys presented a musical program, David Turner playing an electric guitar, Melvin Turner and Gary Holmes playing steel guitars; Larry Arnett and David Schlobohm sang accompanied by Melvin Turner.

Following the program the awards were made with the leadership trophy going to Melvin Turner; vocal music trophy to David Schlobohm; perfect spelling to Larry Arnett; and perfect attendance to Melvin and David Turner. A box of pencils were given with their names on them to each of the children in the first four grades.

CEMENTED RELATIONS—One of the prime tourist attractions in Mayfield, Ky., is, of all places, the town cemetery. The visitors stop in to view the granite likenesses of the members of the Wooldridge family interred there. Above each grave is a full-sized statue of a member of the family, including Col. Henry C. Wooldridge on horseback. Other statues are four brothers, three sweethearts, two nieces, two hounds, a deer and a pet fox.

Improves Quality

Farmer Gets 45 Per Cent Of Milk Consumer's Dollar

When you buy a quart of milk and pay 24.2 cents you pay the farmer 10.9 cents and the marketing system gets 13.3 cents as follows: assembling milk—1.2; processing—4.3; retailing, home delivery—5.6; other expenses—1.2; profit (before income taxes)—1.0.

Milk is one of the cheapest foods in terms of food value. Its quality has been improved in recent years because it is produced under more sanitary conditions, nearly all of it is pasteurized, much of it is homogenized and has vitamin D added, and it is kept cooler during marketing.

Farmers in 1957 got 45 cents out of each dollar spent by consumers for milk, compared to 55 cents in 1947. The change was due almost entirely to increases in marketing costs; that's why consumers paid more.

There are three major steps in the trip from farm to consumer. Looking at three steps one by one, here are some of the factors involved.

Milk must be kept clean and cool and moved fast if the quality is to be preserved. Thousands of trucks travel many miles each day to gather milk from farms and haul it to processing plants.

The assembly operation in 1957 took about 5 cents of each dollar spent by consumers for milk. Most of that cost is in buying, maintaining, and fueling milk trucks, and these costs have gone up. Wages of truck drivers and milk handlers also have gone up.

When the milk arrives at the dairy plant, it is immediately put under refrigeration. And it is kept clean and sanitary, at much expense. After pasteurization and other processing, it is bottled and sent on its way to the consumer.

Just about all the processes mentioned cost more now than a few years ago. The payroll is the principal cost item here, as it is milk took about 18 cents of the consumer's dollar in 1957.

From the dairy plant, milk goes to consumers either through retail food stores or by direct delivery to homes by truck. Again, most of the cost is in payrolls, about 70 per cent of the total selling and delivery cost. These costs have been rising.

Distribution costs accounted for by the consumer for milk in 1957. Administrative expenses of the marketing companies took another 5 cents, and profits took 4 cents more.

A Distinct Threat

Dutch Elm Disease Has Spread Rapidly

Since its discovery in Missouri in 1911, Dutch elm disease has spread rapidly and now constitutes a distinct threat to many of the state's elm trees unless prompt action is taken to control it, says T. W. Bretz, University of Missouri professor of forestry.

The disease is caused by a fungus that is carried from tree to tree by an insect known as the smaller European elm bark beetle. Control of the disease is based on the control of the beetle that carries it from tree to tree.

There are two methods of keeping the beetle in check and both are directed toward protecting healthy trees against infection, the forester says. One method is to destroy its breeding sites and the other is a spray program that keeps the beetle from feeding on healthy elms.

Beetles breed in living but weakened trees, recently-killed trees, or newly-cut elm wood but only so long as the bark remains intact. When the beetles emerge from their breeding sites, they fly to nearby healthy elms to feed and, if they carry the disease-causing fungus, they infect their new hosts.

Since they usually fly no more than 1,000 feet in search of a place to feed, destroy all breeding places within a 1/4-mile radius of an area to be protected slows the spread of the disease.

Even though such sanitation measures are necessary to control the disease, a complete cleanup that destroys all beetles is rarely accomplished. Therefore, spray programs designed to protect healthy elms from beetle are also considered necessary to get effective control of the disease.

According to Bretz, spraying all back surfaces of healthy elms with a DDT spray during the dormant season will help keep the beetles in check.

Because it's difficult for property owners to carry on sanitation beyond the area under their jurisdiction, Dutch elm disease control is most effective on a neighborhood or community-wide basis. Furthermore, spraying costs per tree usually decline as the number of trees treated in a given area increases.

It's been demonstrated that a spray program, carefully planned and conscientiously carried out, can reduce losses to less than two per cent of the elm population. However, there's no treatment known that will cure trees once they are infected.

Dutch elm disease has been present in the United States about 30 years following the introduction of the disease carrying fungus and the European bark beetle from Europe. As mentioned, the disease was first found in Missouri in 1911 and is now known to occur in St. Louis, Kansas City, south-east Missouri, and probably in other areas as well. The bark beetle is found throughout the state and has built up a large population in elms weakened by recent drought years.

The disease builds up rapidly once it occurs in a community. In St. Louis, only a few trees were damaged in 1951 but, in just a few years, thousands were estimated to be dying from the disease. If the disease is allowed to run its course, Bretz says many cities, towns, and villages in the state will have almost certain loss of most of their elms.

In estimating the damage from the loss of elms, Bretz says it's necessary for homeowners to include the cost of removal of the dead trees as well as the decline in real estate value and the cost of replanting. In cities, tree removal is a costly item and charges often are as high as $100 per tree.

All elms are susceptible to the disease to some degree. The Christine Buisman, a European selection available from certain nurseries, is highly resistant to the disease as are the Chinese and Siberian elms.

The most typical symptoms of the disease is the wilting and yellowing of leaves on one or more branches, the forester notes. This may occur any time during the growing season. Another symptom of the disease are brown streaks in the sapwood of infected branches that usually appear just beneath the bark.

However, positive identification can be made only by laboratory tests because other fungi also cause wilting of branches and induce brown streaks in wood.

It's possible to get laboratory identification at the University, Bretz says. Persons interested in how to collect a proper sample for laboratory tests can get instructions for doing so upon request to the School of Forestry, University of Missouri, Columbia, Mo.

Matter of FACT

Until the 18th century the usual way of decorating the walls of a room was to use either wood carvings or costly brocades, tapestries and wall draperies. The French first learned to use painted paper for wall decorations from Japan and China. In 1620, the wallpaper industry was established in France.

Countries Ike Invited To Talk on Antarctica Have All Accepted

WASHINGTON (AP)—The State Department said today the 11 countries invited by President Eisenhower to take part in a conference to neutralize Antarctica have all accepted the invitation.

The final agreement came from the Soviet Union in a note received here Monday. The State Department kept the Soviet approval secret until Moscow radio announced it Tuesday night.

Eisenhower sent his proposal early last month to Russia and 10 other countries. The others are Argentina, Australia, Belgium, Chile, France, Japan, New Zealand, Norway, South Africa and the United Kingdom.

Two Boys Tie Another To Railroad Tracks

NORWALK, Calif. (AP)—Sheriff's deputies checked schools today in an attempt to find two boys who tied a younger boy to railroad tracks.

Michael R. Evans, 7, whose father rescued him just before a train reached him, accompanied the officers.

Michael was seized by two boys Monday. He said they used a clothesline to tie him with his head near the tracks.

Michael's companions, Robin

Lee Denton, 6, and Calvin Denton, 5, ran and told his father, Frank Evans.

The father rushed to the scene, grabbed one of his son's tormentors but let him go when he heard a train approaching. He untied his son just before the train reached the spot.

Michael told officers: "They said they were going to hang me to a telephone pole but they couldn't get the rope over the iron spike."

Stocks Bus With Beer To Attend Ball Game

BALTIMORE (AP)—A group of 40 fans from a suburban Essex, Md., tavern decided to charter a bus, stock it with beer, and go to the ball game last night.

After the game, they trotted out to the parking lot and found their bus gone, beer and all.

After an hour's wait, a school bus was brought to the rescue and the 40 disgruntled fans headed home, minus the beer.

A few minutes later the original bus rattled into the parking lot. The owner of the bus company had needed a bus for another charter party and decided to pick up the temporarily unused bus at the stadium, hoping to get back before the game ended.

When the case of the missing bus was straightened out, one policeman mused: "There'll be a lot of wives who won't believe this story."

Americans, bound for foreign ports, should apply for their passports at least three weeks before departure date.
